Chop Library Posts? D. C. Elementary CTA Angry

By DON GRIERSON

Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association officers are "up in arms" this week over an announcement by Supt. Frank Greenwood that he is notifying librarians in the Daly City elementary school district they "may not be rehired next year."

JCTA President Mrs. Jan Beekman said the Jefferson Elementary School District superintendent announced last week he will distribute a letter to librarians at their next regular staff meeting outlining their "tenuous position."

"Greenwood emphasized the fact that he is only satisfying a legal requirement, meeting a March 15 state deadline, in case he finds he must move in that direction in light of 'teacher requests' and the lack of district funds," Mrs. Beekman said.

"Although he says he's not 'cutting' librarians, I inquired as to what he thought he'd be likely to do if he were a librarian in this district and received such a letter," she said.

Members of the teacher organization are especially miffed over the superintendent's move because they feel it is a slam at their negotiating packet proposals submitted several weeks ago.

"Item I" in their list of proposals was a recommendation that the district library program be bolstered by the addition of two librarians to the present staff "to maintain the current level of library service considering the expectation of increased enrollment."

The teachers also recommended against using libraries as classrooms should enrollment next year exceed classroom capacity, proposing instead that relocatable classrooms be obtained.

"A glance at JCTA questionaires on priorities reveals the high regard we have for our vital library program."

"It is not 'Item I' in our Negotiations Packet by accident," she said.

"The teacher requests begin with maintaining and building upon the current level of library services."

Mrs. Beekman said children attending school in the district have shown a steady decline in the basic skill areas, primarily reading, since 1966.

"After recognizing the need to place significantly greater emphasis, district-wide, on basic skill areas, it seems ironic to me that Mr. Greenwood chose to make such an announcement at this time," she said.

"If we are concerned about developing greater basic skills competency in our students, particularly in areas related to reading, then we can never justify eliminating the program which provides maximum opportunity for implementation and practice of those skills, our libraries."

"There are many alternatives. The choice is not to cut librarians."

Supt. Greenwood said today the librarians, with two exceptions, have teaching certificates, and would be reassigned in other capacities should it prove necessary to cut the library staff.

He also said "librarians are not the only staff members who will receive letters notifying them of the possibility that they may not be rehired next year."

According to the superintendent, the teachers are seeking pay raises and other benefits totalling more than $800,000 this year, "and the money has to come from somewhere."

"If we have to accept contracts calling for more money than we have, then the only solution is to begin dismissing people," he said.

"We must remain flexible in this area, and that is why I am sending out the letters, as required by State Law."

According to Greenwood, pay raises sought by the teachers this year average 10 per cent, "and this figure does not include additional health coverage and other benefits requested."

The superintendent and other district officials warned last year that it might prove necessary to delete the library program, along with some other programs this year because of a lack of operating funds.

Bruno Votes $7,200 To Push Census

The San Bruno City Council Monday allocated $7,200 to finance a special census, scheduled about April 14.

City Clerk Carl Hultberg told councilman that he is looking for census enumerators, to be paid $2 an hour. San Bruno residents interested should contact Hultberg at city hall, he said.

The city is seeking applicants for some 50 temporary enumerator positions that must be filled before this survey can start. Application blanks can be obtained at the City Clerk's Office, City hall, San Bruno, California.

The enumerators actually will conduct the census on a door-to-door basis. The jobs will last five to ten days and enumerators must be willing to work eight hours a day including the evenings and on Saturdays. The pay will be $2 per hour.

Applicants should be citizens of the United States and at least 18 years of age. They should also be of good appearance, physically able to do considerable walking and climbing stairs, write a legible hand and be able to understand instructions. An applicant must also be willing to work full-time until their assignment is completed, Hult-

D.C. 'Conflict' With Code Is Charged

On advice of its city attorney the Daly City Council Monday rejected a demand that three of its Personnel Board members be removed because their positions were in conflict with the City Code.

Frnk Gillis, business representative for the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (Council 57), had earlier asked for a city attorney ruling on the eligibility of three commissioners to serve on the board.

Explaining that a section of the Daly City Code prohibited appointment to the Personnel Board of any person who holds a salaried public office or employment, Gillis threatened to take the question to court "if you (the council) leave us no other choice . . ."

City Attorney Al Polonsky responded to Gillis' demands by stating that it was his feeling "from examination of the duties and requirements of the duty statements of the three persons involved, that they are not salaried public officials but . . . are in public employment."

And Polonsky added he did not feel that those persons holding public employment should be discriminated against or made second class citizens "in connection with their right to serve on all appropriate boards and commissions."

The three commissioners involved are: J. Jay Flynn, a lieutenant with the Highway Patrol; Robert Young, a U.S. Navy employee; and, William Glen We-

Crestmoor Canyon Overpass Wanted

The City of San Bruno wants a pedestrian-maintenance overpass to connect north and south sides of Crestmoor Canyon when the state constructs the east-west freeway from the airport, through San Bruno, to the coastside.

And Monday night, the council directed that such a request be directed to "the proper state agency," so an overpass might be included in the construction project.

The city also plans to ask the State Division of Highways for cost appraisals of excess lands in the construction area—bounded by San Bruno Avenue and Sneath Lane, south and north, and Junipero Serra and Skyline boulevards, east and west.

Three parcels are involved. The city will request figures on individual parcels, as well as all three in a package, it was pointed out.

In another municipal action, the council set April 7 as the public hearing date on a request for rezoning of the land on the northwest corner of the Sneath Lane-Jenipero Serra intersection to allow construction of 700 apartment units.

Mosaic Seal Presented To D.C. Council

A mosaic of the Daly City seal was unveiled at a regular meeting of the Council Monday night by former City treasurer Florence Pierce Stockton.

The seal was made by artist Alphonso Pardinas of San Francisco, and donated to the City by the First National Bank of Daly City.

Mrs. Stockton was appointed deputy city treasurer in January 1937, and served as treasurer from June, 1937, until April, 1948. Her husband, A. L. Stockton, was the first city treasurer from January 1916 until his death in May 1937.

WBRTA Election Delay Ruled Out

Any further delay in bringing a master transit plan for San Mateo County to a vote of the people was all but ruled out yesterday by directors of the West Bay Rapid Transit Authority.

The board adopted two motions, similar in form, to the effect that the election positively will be held on June 10 as scheduled, "barring unforeseen problems." Every effort will be imade to have the election on that date, it was agreed.

But, just in case a delay is deemed necessary or desirable despite the directors' good intentions at this time, a bill extending the life of the West Bay agency for six months to permit a November election is going through the legislative process in Sacramento.

Gen. Mgr. John C. Lilly reported that the bill, introduced by Senator Richard J. Dolwig, is scheduled to be heard by the Senate Transportation Committee Wednesday and should reach the Senate floor later this week or early next week.

Then it would go on to the Assembly, where it might encounter some difficulties. Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan has been polling city officials in his district and has received some opposition to the extension.

County Clerk-Recorder Marvin Church told the board that, if the election is to be held on June 10, an election agreement must be approved by the County Board of Supervisors by April 8. The last day to cancel the election, once the machinery is set in motion, would be May 16, Church said.

There was also some comment that a delay might give West Bay a better idea of what the Bay Area Rapid Transit District and Santa Clara County are going to do. There was general agreement yesterday, however, that nothing would be gained from a postponement on either score.

Brochures describing the transit plan and listing three public hearings are to be placed in the mails today. Most of the 190,000 private homes in the county will get their notices through the mail.

The brochures will be distributed by volunteer groups in Foster City, Hillsborough, Burlingame and Burlingame Hills.

Public hearings are scheduled for March 25 at Westmoor High School in Daly City, March 26 at Beresford Recreation Center in San Mateo, and March 27 at the Veterans' Memorial Building in Redwood City.

D.C. Redevelopment Agency For BART Area Suggested

By FRANK LaPIERRE

The fastest and most orderly way to revitalize the area around the proposed BARTD station on Knowles Avenue is for the Daly City Council to form its own redevelopment agency, one "concerned citizen" of the rapidly deteriorating neighborhood explained this week.

Al Jenkens, an employe of the Pacific Far East Lines and resident of "old" Daly City, said "all it would take to get the ball rolling is for the council to issue a simple proclamation declaring itself a Redevelopment Agency."

Jenkins, who lives at 163 Santa Cruz Avenue, envisions an area bounded by Knowles, Mission Street, the BARTD station and the San Francisco County line, as the initial project area.

"This area should be developed according to a master plan in conjunction with the city's General Plan," he said.

After declaring itself to the be the redevelopment agency for the area, the council would have to appoint an advisory committee made up of members from both the city government and local residents — preferably those homeowners in the area affected.

Before any approach for federal funding can be made, an "outline" plan must be submitted for study. A final map would probably follow once approval has been obtained.

Jenkins' suggestion has met with varying degrees of warmth from council members themselves. They agree with the over-all concept of developing the area under a master plan, but feel Jenkins' explanation of where the money to finance such a project would come from is incomplete.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett called the money part of Jenkins' proposal a "pie in the sky" but quickly allowed parts of the idea "aren't bad."

The mayor explained the city was hamstrung on any development in the suggested project area until BARTD completes its terminal station on the 13-acre

$945,742 in Jeff High Budget Cuts Suggested

Hoping to at least minimize its financial burden, trustees of the Jefferson High School District, which serves Pacifica and Daly City, are pondering an administrative request for budget cuts amounting to $945,742.

Even with that whopping slash, the district will be some $100,000 in the red, according to Glenn South, district business administrator.

South pointed out that the proposed reductions would include a freeze on employe salaries, denial of a 10 per cent pay hike for teachers, curtailment of tenure, reduction by one-half of workshops, mileage and overtime and elimination of Westmoor portable classrooms.

The trimming is a "reluctant" district move, South explained with the terse comment, "The state is going to have to do something."

Trustees took no action on the recommendations, but are expected to do so in two weeks.

site at the foot of Knowles Avenue.

"We definitely have not shut the door on Jenkins' plan," Lycett said, adding, "I am slightly disenchanted, however, with the financing of it — he's way off on his figures."

An estimated 2,000 people live in the tract, excluding business at the top of Mission Street. Once the development starts (after purchase of the land) residents would have a choice of temporary or permanent relocation, Jenkins said. Whatever the case, those affected would have a "say" in what happens.

Construction of the BARTD station has thrown the neighborhood into disrepair, according to Jenkins. And streets crisscross the site in a helter skelter pattern, many meandering to nowhere. Some streets are now used for drag racing, several residents have complained.

If the city was unable to interest an "outside" agency to develop the area, the city could purchase the land itself and form a land corporation to do the job, Jenkins said.

The advantage of labeling this a "project area" would be in giving the city complete and direct control over building construction and placement of open space.

The city is expected to give the matter a lot of thought before making its move either way, a spokesman said.

It's Not His Fight Any More

A Daly City man, Ralph C. Chambers, 38, 75 Poinsettia, was arrested Sunday night in Foster City after police were called to the home of his ex-wife to stop a fight in progress.

According to the report from the Foster City Public Safety Department, Chambers was fighting with a boyfriend of his ex-wife, Elaine. It was explained that Chambers has been enjoined from bothering his ex-wife and he was taken into custody on a charge of criminal contempt for a court order. His wife lives at 315 Shad in Foster City.

Bail was set at $315 at the County Jail where Chambers was taken.

Another Baby For Firemen

Pacifica firemen have delivered three babies in less than one week.

The latest addition to that coastside city's population arrived shortly after 1 a.m. Saturday with the nervous assistance of firemen Tom Elliott, Chuck Smith and Ken Donohue.

Mrs. Patricia Weigant gave birth to a healthy girl in the bedroom of her home at 1428 Maderiaera Drive, as firemen, an ambulance crew from the Bay Area Ambulance Company and a score of concerned relatives crowded around, according to a fire department spokesman.

Last Tuesday, Pacifica firemen aided in the delivery of twins.

"At the rate we're going we may open a well-baby clinic soon," fire captain Ken Donohue commented following the most recent episode.

MRS. HAROLD THOMPSON, spiritual director of the Westlake Catholic Women, has announced an Evening of Recollection for March 24 at Our Lady of Mercy Church. Rev. man, of the S.M. County Housing Authority.

Although the council backed Polonsky's interpretation, Gillis argued the appointments were in direct violation with the code and said the code either needs revision or the city is operating in non-compliance with State law.

Polonsky countered by saying there was a "conflict on interpretation" and maintained his stand.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett informed Gillis the city "is going along" with the City Attorney's ruling on the matter.

But Councilman Edward J. Dennis hotly denounced Gillis' move to oust the three non-salaried board members.

"I'm more than a little disturbed by this, "Dennis said. "These men work without pay in the best interest of the city . . . for good clean city government . . . and I don't understand you. I think you're on the wrong track."

If there is a conflict between certain sections of the city code regarding board appointments the council does not have the power to amend or revise it. The matter must go before the public after proper public hearings, Polonsky pointed out.

Thefts Tilt Pinball Game

Burglars broke into a candy vending machine and a pinball machine at Family Billiards, 426 San Mateo Avenue, San Bruno, early today.

Teen Center To Get Some Play Receipts

The San Bruno City Council, committed to supporting a teen center when funds become available through budgeting next year, Monday set aside a portion of "Madwoman of Chaillot" receipts for the teen-ager facility.

The play will be presented by the San Bruno recreation department's cultural arts arm March 27-28-29 at Crestmoor High School.

Crestmoor students will sell the tickets to the production, being directed by E. Richard Martin, known for his work with the San Bruno Theater Workshop.

The allocation by the council was not by unanimous vote: Councilman Neil Crystal opposed the action.

It was pointed out that the recreation commission originally planned to charge $1 a ticket for the play. But it later recommended to councilman that $1.50 be the price, with 50-cents of it going into a special teen-center fund.

The rest of the money will go into a recreation department fund, replacing any funds loaned, by the department, to the cultural arts little theatre.

Court Refuses To Collect Poker Debt

The owners of a San Bruno cardroom have failed in an attempt to collect a $3,000 gambling debt through the courts.

The appellate department of the Superior Court has ruled that the courts cannot be used for that purpose.

In doing so Judges Edmund Scott, Louis B. Dematteis and Melvin E. Cohn reversed a previous ruling by Municipal Judge Paul Hupf, who had awarded $3,000 and costs to Joseph Notaro and Richard H. Klein, operators of the San Bruno Club at 677 San Mateo Avenue.

Notaro and Klein filed suit a year ago against Mario Aiello, a San Bruno businessman, claiming he had stopped payment on a $3,000 check he had written for chips in a lo-ball poker game.

In contesting the suit Aiello's lawyer, Gerald Ragan, said his client was intoxicated when he joined the game, had more drinks during the game and it was not until the following morning that he "realized he had been taken advantage of."

"It is one thing to allow a person to lose his ready cash," Ragan said, "but still another to encourage him to borrow money from the gambling establishment so he can continue to lose.

"To allow a den of iniquity of this type to exist is one thing; to use the process of the courts to enforce their gambling transactions and profits is unconscionable."

In reversing Judge Hupf's award to Notaro and Klein, the appellate judges noted that "if the uncontradicted evidence indicates that the check was for a gambling loss, there can be no recovery."

The panel rejected the contention of the plaintiffs that the check was good because they were not taking part in the game themselves. Nonparticipation by the operators is not one of the tests of nongambling purposes, the judges ruled. Even if it were, they said, the operators still furnished the room, table, dealer, cards and chips.

Youth Knifed In Oceana School Fight

An 18-year-old Negro youth was stabbed in the face during a fight at Oceana High School in Pacifica Friday night, police reported.

Officers said Cornell Foster, a student at the high school, and two other Negro youths, Melvin and Howard Ray, were attacked by about six white youths in the parking lot at the school about 9:15 p.m. Friday..

The fight occurred during a "disturbance" involving about 20 youths in the school parking lot, according to police.

Foster was taken to Kaiser Hospital by his mother, Mrs. ena Foster, 468 Glasgow Street, where he was treated for a 1½-inch gash in his cheek.

A band of about 150 teenagers kicked out windows and pelted policemen and a patrol car with rocks at Oceana High School last Wednesday night during a city-sponsored "Co-Red" dance.

Search In Vain For Boat

A search in bone-chilling winds for a sailboat believed capsized in rough seas off Thornton State Beach in Daly City was called off after three fruitless hours last night.

The craft never was found, despite the combined efforts of the Coast Guard, Daly City fire and police and a San Bruno Radio Emergency Associated Citizens team.

According to fire department sources, the craft was seen capsizing off Thornton Beach at 6:30 p.m. The firemen were called in at 7:30 with lighting equipment.

As a Coast Guard cutter played its spotlight from the ocean toward the beach, a fire unit used its lights in an attempt to sight craft from ashore.

Earlier attempts by a Coast Guard helicopter to spot the sailboat also were in vain, a spokesman siad.

The Coast Guard at one point believed it had spotted the boat, but there were no further sightings. Dune buggies, operated by REACT members, searched the beach both north and south from Thornton.

Candidates' Nights Set

Candidates for Laguna Salada School District and Jefferson Union High School District School Board elections will be presented to the public in two candidates' nights sponsored by Associated American University Women, League of Women Voters of Northern San Mateo County, and P-TA Coordinating Council.

The candidates' nights are scheduled at 8 p.m. on March 19, at Terra Nova High School cafetorium, Pacifica and on March 27, at San Andreas School multi-purpose room, Fairmont.

Mrs. Huge Holmstrom of Pacifica will moderate the candidates' night at Terra Nova High School. The candidates' night at San Andreas School will be moderated by Mrs. Troy Daniels of Daly City. Questions from the audience will be welcomed.

JUVENILE TRIAL

Manslaughter Finding in Knife Case on Coast

Randy Woodruff, 17-year-old Pacifica High School student charged with the fatal knifing of another youth February 10, was found guilty of manslaughter in a juvenile court hearing Friday.

Woodruff was turned over to California Youth Authorities for a 90-day observation period following a hearing before Juvenile Judge Howard Hartley at Hillcrest.

The juvenile hearing was held in lieu of an adult court trial, which could have resulted from the murder charge brought against Woodruff following the death of 18-year-old Albert Tassi Jr.

Tassi died of a knife wound allegedly inflicted by Woodruff during a fight on the Terra Nova High School campus.

Juvenile authorities decide on whether or not alleged felony offenders between the ages of 16 and 18 will be tried as adults "on the basis of maturity and circumstances surrounding the case," a spokesman said.

In Woodruff's case, authorities felt an adult court trial was not warranted.

Following the tragic stabbing incident last month, high school officials described Woodruff as a good student and a "model citizen" who had never been in any previous trouble at the school.

S.S.F. High Play Slated March 14-16

"The Subject Was Roses," a South San Francisco High School's Hamlett acting Laboratory production, will be presented on March 14 and 15 at 8 p.m. and on March 16 at 2:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

The play will be performed at the South San Francisco High School Auditorium in an arena or theater-in-the-round style.

Frank Gilroy, the author of the play, has built a deep plot around a post-war family of three. Nettie Cleary, the role played by Patricia Neal in her nomination for an Academy Award, is portrayed by Lora Bennett.

Lora is a senior and has already proven her talent in the field of acting in her role as Maggie Cutler, the female lead in Kaufman and Hart's "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

Rick Wester is John Cleary, a man who is forced to bridge the growing gap between himself, his wife and their son, Tim. Although Rick is a senior and has always had an interest in drama, "Roses" will mark his first leading role.

Timmy, a highly sensitive character, is played by Rick Camoirano. Rick, a junior, is relatively new in the field of acting but his performance in "Roses" leaves no doubt as to his talent.

Elaine Lenes, winner of the Bank of America award in drama, will be assisting Lyle Crawford in the direction of the play.

D.C. Youth Arrested As Car Stopped

A 21-year-old Daly City youth was arrested Thursday and charged with possession of marijuana after an alert police officer noted the car he was allegedly driving was stolen several hours earlier in San Francisco.

Charles Allen Jr., of 320 North Parkview Street, was also charged with operating a vehicle with an expired license and driving a stolen vehicle after officer Russell Cunningham stopped the suspect on a city street about 2:45 a.m. this morning.

Cunningham said a check of the car indicated it was "hot" and the driver suspect's license had expired. A search of the vehicle turned up the marijuana cigarettes, the officer said.

Later, while transporting the suspect to police headquarters, Cunningham said he observed Allen attempt to shove a small plastic bag under the police car's rear seat. Inside the bag was a small quantity of marijuana, according to police.

D.C. Council Is Upset Over Census

The idea of San Mateo County footing the cost of censuses in those cities which have not conducted such head counts since 1960 has ired at least three members of the Daly City Council.

County Manager M. D. Tarshes recommended in January that a special census be held in some ten cities which have not held head counts since 1960. Each city would be assured that if revenues did not increase sufficiently to pay for the census the county would pay for the survey.

But Daly City held its survey last summer and was not mentioned in Tarshes' outline of cities recommended for the count.

The news of the county's intention to financial participate in the census program came during a study session earlier this week and was met with an immediate response from Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett.

Lycett instructed City Manager Edward Frank to dash off a letter to the county asking for reimbursement of the $11,000 spent by the city to take its poll.

Councilman Frank Pacelli, while admitting he was doubtful the city could recoup all of the money spent, said "even if we get half—that's half we didn't have before."

Others felt the poll conducted by Daly City —which indicated a substantial population growth — aided the county as well as the city.

"I'd like them (the county) to explain their action on footing the bills for city censuses," Lycett said.

At the present time state motor vehicle in-lieu payments (gas tax funding) to the county uses a 1965 population figure of some 528,600. The county Planning Department estimates the 1969 population at 568,000, while the State Department of Finance uses a figure of only 550,000.

Census Takers Sought In South San Francisco

The City of South San Francisco is soliciting applications for 56 "temporary enumerator" positions, Assistant City Manager Laurence L. Ross announced today.

Applicants chosen will conduct door-to-door surrveys in connection with the special census slated to begin in the city "around April 8."

"The jobs will last five to ten days, and enumerators must be willing to work eight hours a day, including evenings and Saturdays," Ross said.

Enumerators will be paid at a rate of $1.75 per hour.

"Applicants should be citizens of the United States, and at least 18 years of age," Ross said. "They should also be of good appearance, physically able to do considerable walking and climbing stairs, write a legible hand, and be able to understand instructions. Applicants must also be willing to work full-time until their assignments are completed."

The census will be administered by the city, according to specifications of the State Department of Finance and under direct supervision of a field supervisor from the State.

Daylight Burglaries On Upswing

Daylight burglaries are on the upswing in Daly City, with four such breakins reported to police Thursday.

The first occurred at the apartment of Mary Ramirez, 115 Knowles Avenue. Some $415 in currency plus a quantity of jewelry was stolen after entry was gained by the front door.

Dan Garcia reported yesterday that a television set and stereo unit were stolen from his home at 233 Baltimore Way after burglars broke open a garage door.

A color television set was stolen yesterday from the Juan DeLeon home at 6155 Mission Street. Entry was made by forcing open the front door.

Between 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. last night burglars forced their way into the James Garcia home at 301 Price Street and stole a portable television set and two watches, police report.

Candy Road To Power

The Westmoor Boys' Block W Society is now in the planning stages for buying a weight machine which costs approximately $1,200.

The Block W Society, which received half of the proceeds from the KYA game, $344, is using that money to kick off the fund raising. A candy sale will start in the near future to add to the Block W coffers.

The machine will be a great asset to the boys at Westmoor because it has 13 stations which can all be used at the same time. For example, one boy could be using the bench press while another boy is using the leg press.

Coach Robert Lotti stated that this machine is a necessary mechanism for the block W, and it is a definite help for the athletes playing football, wrestling, track, baseball, and basketball, as it will help to condition the athletes before their season begins.

There's something cheap about them.

Burlingame Pair Charged in Holdup

Two Burlingame men were arrested by San Bruno and Burlingame police Wednesday and charged with Tuesday's armed robbery of a San Bruno Seven-Eleven foodstore.

A San Bruno police spokesman identified the suspects as Kenneth Wayne Wilson, 20, and Stanley Floyd Maurer, 23, both of 250 Hatch Lane, Burlingame, and recently from Denver.

Police said the pair has been accused of robbing the Seven-Eleven store at Huntington and East Angus about a half hour after it was opened at 7 a.m. by a 20-year-old clerk, Tim Kenkel.

James Pitts, the store owner, estimated the loss at between $275 and $300.

One of the suspects has entered the store, asked for a shower cap, police said, looked in his wallet and then departed.

Kunkel told the authorities the suspect returned a few minutes later, brandishing a gun that was partially hidden by a newspaper.

The bandit emptied the cash register of its contents, fled the store. He got into a car outside and left the area.

However, a description of the vehicle was obtained. Later in the day a car matching the description was seen in the Burlingame area, and Burlingame detectives joined the investigation.

The pair are also under investigation for attempting a similar holdup in Burlingame the previous night.

40 Permits In Pacifica

Forty building permits for new construction and additions valued at $40,625 were issued last month in Pacifica, Chef Building Official Philip W. Mayo reported today.

Of the permits issued, 32 were for residential additions, one new residence, two partment house additions and one commercial addition.

Two Children Injured In D.C. Mishaps

Two small children — ages three and five — were injured in separate auto-pedestrian accidents within minutes of each other in Daly City Sunday.

The first accident occurred on Winchester Avenue near Acton at 3:05 p.m. when 3-year-old James Ernest Abernathy of 235 Winchester, was struck by a car driven by Roman Menjwar, 23, of 154 Winchester.

A spokesman at Mary's Help Hospital said this morning that the child's condition was "guarded" with multiple chest injuries. He is in the intensive care unit at the hospital.

The second accident was reported at 3:25 p.m. when 5-year-old Michael Zimmerman, of 42 Woodside, was struck by a car driven by Milton Reynard, 48, of 38 Woodside.

Initial police reports indicate the small boy ran into the street from between two parked cars in front of 46 Woodside.

Michael was treated for bruises and cuts and released.

Jeff Panel Forms To Assist Students

A Jefferson High School District curriculum planning committee has been formed in Daly City to design a feasible planning system to increase the effectiveness of programs attempting to meet student needs.

The members include:

Ed DeMartini, fine arts teacher, Jefferson High School; Thomas Mohr, science teacher, Oceana High; Michael Tugendreich, social science teacher, Serramonte; Thomas McGrail, social science teacher and counselor, Terra Nova; Leonard P. Martin, business teacher, Westmoor; Rosemarie Cooper, mathematics teacher, Thornton High; Edward Solomon, Jefferson High District Board of Trustees president; Mrs. Grace McCarthy, Pacifica councilwoman; Don Halverson of Pacifica, PG&E manager, Daly City; Joe L. Nobles, insurance man, Daly City; Edward D. Morgan, Jefferson High District superintendent; and Ernest Ribera, assistant superintendent for instruction; David Rawnsley, county PACE program research specialist-planner.

In addition, a student representative from each high school is expected to be selected "shortly" for membership on the committee, according to Ribera, under whose direction funds were obtained to help finance the program.

"The need exists for better communication between our high schools, with our feeder districts and with junior colleges and our communities" Ribera said.

He is hopeful that the committee's 1969 recommendations "will be beneficial to the district and our communities."

Ribera added, "We feel that nothing hinders educational progress as much as the absence of an organizational structure within the educational system specifically designed to recognize obsolescence, as well as plan innovation."

He sees a need, Ribara commented, for a willingness to test research results, to put into practice the best of tested innovations and to view the schools as a place for such testing.

"We cannot depend on crash programs," Ribera acknowledged, "to solve all the proglems of education.

"A system for planning that is continuously needed, but long-range goals also must be included in the district's planning program," he said.

"The nature of curriculum planning is such that to be meaningful it must be ongoing," he said.

"What is innovative and needed today may lack meaning and be obsolete tomorrow," Ribera emphasized.

Bedroom Is Damaged In Bruno Fire

A bedroom in a San Bruno home was damaged by fire and the rest of the house suffered smoke damage Saturday night, when fire erupted near a dresser.

The dresser and a bed in one of the two bedrooms in the home at 944 Seventh Avenue rented by Betty Molina were destroyed by flame, San Bruno firemen said.

There was smoke damage throughout the house, which is owned, firemen said, by the State Division of Highways.

A neighbor called firemen at 12:50 p.m. and let firemen in with a key. Firemen later found the back door open.

Olympia, Rivera P-TA Honors Pair

The Olympia Rivera P-TA in Daly City awarded two Honorary Life Memberships at a recent meeting to Mrs. W. Robert O'Neil and Dr. Sanford Marcus.

Born in Idaho, Mrs. O'Neil has served her area in a variety of ways. She has filled many offices on both the Fernando Rivera P-TA Board and the Westmoor High School P-TA Board. She spent four active years in Cub Scouting, as a denmother and pack secretary. She is a charter member of the North Peninsula Circle Florence Crittenton Home.

For the past five years she has undertaken the presentation of Dental Health puppet shows to the public schools, through the San Mateo Dental Auxiliary. At present she is an assistant in a Special Education Class at Olympia School.

Marcus, a Lowell High School and University of Pennsylvania Medical School graduate has served our community as a lecturer. He has participated in school programs on "Smoking and Health" for the Cancer Society.

Church Unit Rummage Sale Set

Final arrangements are being made for the rummage sale to be held by St. Martin's Episcopal Church Friday and Saturday, in the undercroft of the church at 777 Southgate Avenue in Daly City.

The sale will be sponsored by the Episcopal Church Women of St. Martin's.

Helping to arrange merchandise and price articles are: Mrs. Marche Yoshioka, Mrs. John Nakaue, Miss Carmen Ikehara, Mrs. Charles McCaffery, Miss Kay Hoover, Mrs. Edna Boltman, Miss Betty Casey, and Mrs. Dolores Langford.

Co-chairmen are Miss Kay Hoover and Mrs. Helene Mori. Rummage may be taken to the church anytime Tuesday through Thursday.

A hot dog refreshment stand will be open on Saturday. The sale both days will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

TRUSTEE HOPEFULS

Candidates for three Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustee seats in Daly City are expected to participate in a candidates' night, to be sponsored by the Franklin D. Roosevelt P-TA, March 20.

The moderator will be Michael Rourke, according to P-TA vice president Mrs. Richard Freund.

Short talks will be given by Mrs. Dorothy Adams, Gordon Cartwright, Albert Collett Jr., Aaron Hirsch, Mrs. Reyna Krips and William Schumacher, the candidates.

A seventh candidate, Eugene Camous, has withdrawn for health reasons.

"The F.D.R. P-TA feels this election will be of major importance to all parents," Mrs. Rourke said, "since the Board of Trustees makes the decision that affect the education of Daly City's elementary school children.

The school is located at 1200 Skyline Drive, Daly City.

Westmoor High Film Festival

Rudolph Valentino, Mae West, "It," and King Kong are due to arrive on Westmoor High's campus via the motion picture media during Westmoor's First Annual Film Festival, March 17-22 in Daly City.

All after-school films will be shown in the Little Theater at 2:30 p.m.

The six-day festival is the result of a parent-student-teacher involvement committee started last December under the student chairmanship of Jim Muslewhite.

"Dracula," the original 1931 vampire film starring Bela Lugosi, will open Monday afternoon's double feature. Following will be "Son of the Shiek," Rudolph Valentino's last and most famous film. Tuesday will feature "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn," based on Betty Smith's novel of a young girl growing up in a Brooklyn slum.

Scheduled for Wednesday is "My Little Chickadee" in which Mae West and W. C. Fields don western garb for a romp in the "wild west." "Walk in My Shoes," a documentary concerning ghetto life will also be featured.

James Dean, a teen idol of the 1950's, stars in Thursdays presentation of "East of Eden." This movie was adapted from John Steinbeck's novel of a generation gap existing in a family living in the Salinas area.

"King Kong," which was made in the early 1930's, and has remained as the greatest example of trick photography, can be viewed Friday night at 7:30 p.m. in addition to its afternoon showing.

County's Miss America Contest to Start Soon

Every young girl dreams of becoming Miss America. The girl who is selected Miss San Mateo County could be the next Miss America.

Now is the time to decide for any young woman in the San Mateo County area who qualifies, Robert Kestler, Executive Director, said in calling for candidates to enter the pageant.

Kestler announced that a preliminary screening of contestants will be held on March 14th at Laurel School in San Mateo. Applications may be obtained by writing the Pageant c-o Post Office Box 5250, San Mateo.

To qualify, one must be between the ages of 18 and 28 on September 1st, must be a high school graduate by that date, and must never have been married.

Talent will be considered in the judging and each contestant should possess some quality of talent, either trained or potential. In discussing the talent qualifications, Kestle stressed that the range is varied and that no girl must necessarily be trained in any specific field.

Judging of the candidates will be based on the same values as considered at the Miss California Pageant and at the national Miss America Pageant. Poise, beauty, and talent are the three major requirements.

Kestler called for civic and social organizations in the area to sponsor candidates and he called for individual young ladies to submit their own names as entries.

Memory Lane Is Luncheon Theme

The presentation of continuing service awards were to Mrs. Roy Cloud and Mrs. C. W. Cadigan. Mrs. Dan Martin, was this year's honorary life membership chairman and was assisted by Mrs. Clifford Lipson and Mrs. Vernon Phillips.

A panel of speakers will discuss the "Family Life Program."

Eighth grade mothers will hostess the evening, headed by Mrs. Gerow Murphy and Mrs. George Hoopman.

Minority Education Program

The speakers will represent the black and Mexican-American minorities.

'Green Day' Fare

Good morning, good cooks.

Next Monday is St. Patrick's Day and we'll all be wearing some shade of green on that darlin' day won't we?

The markets are doing their bit to foster the celebration of the day with large displays of corned beef and round solid heads of cabbage. Whether you are lucky enough to be born Irish or are Irish by choice, let's cook a bit of corned beef, shall we?

CORNED BEEF AND CABBAGE

6 pounds corned beef brisket
1 cabbage
3 turnips
6-onions
4-carrots
6 potatoes
2 bay leaves
4 whole cloves

Cover the six pounds of corned beef brisket with cold water. Add the two bay leaves and four whole cloves. Heat rapidly to boiling then skim off foam, reduce heat and simmer until tender, four to five hours.

Prepare the vegetables, cutting the cabbage into eighths and the turnips into quarters.

About 45 minutes before serving, skim fat from liquid and add the turnips, onions, carrots and potatoes. Cover and cook about one-half hour. Add the cabbage for the last 15 minutes of cooking. Cook until all the vegetables are tender. Drain well and serve. This amount serves 10.

To serve corned beef and cabbage without Irish soda bread would be impossible to think of in the O'Norton household. This recipe for Irish Sweepstakes Bread is our favorite and I'm happy to share it with all you good Irish cooks.

IRISH SWEEPSTAKES BREAD

¾ cup raisins
2 cups flour
1 tablespoon sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
one-third cup butter
1 teaspoon caraway seed
1 egg
1 cup sour milk

Rinse and drain the three-fourths cup raisins. Sift together the two cups flour, one tablespoon sugar, two teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon soda and one teaspoon salt. Cut in the one-third cup butter with knives or pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse corn meal. Stir in the raisins and the one teaspoon caraway seed. Beat the egg slightly and add to the cup of sour milk. Make a well in the center of the flour mixture and pour all the liquid in at once. Stir with a fork until the flour is moistened. DON'T OVER MIX. Turn into greased 8-inch round pan. Bake in 400-degree oven for about 20 minutes. Serve in wedges with butter. Makes 8 wedges.

WE KNOW THE COLOR we want our Paddy's Day dessert to be, the question is what form will it take? Thanks to a wonderful booklet put out by General Foods Corporation we have a delicious dessert that can be served in three ways.

CROWN JEWEL DESSERT

3 packages lime gelatin
3 cups boiling water
1½ cups cold water

Prepare the three packages of lime gelatin, using the three cups hot water and one and one-half cups cold water. Pour into large flat dish, 9x13x2 inches. Chill until firm, or overnight.

1 cup pineapple juice
¼ cup sugar
1 package lemon gelatin
½ cup cold water
1½ cups graham cracker crumbs
One-third cup melted butter
2 cups whipping cream or 2 pkgs. whipped topping mix

Mix the one cup pineapple juice with the one-fourth cup sugar. Heat until sugar is dissolved. Remove from heat. Dissolve lemon gelatin in the hot juice, then add one-half cup cold water. Chill until slightly thickened.

Meanwhile mix the one and one-half cup crumbs with the one-third cup melted butter; press into bottom of 9-inch spring-form pan. (If desired, press part of crumbs on side of pan.)

Cut the firm lime gelatin into -inch cubes. Then prepare whipped topping mix as directed on packages or whip the cream; blend with the lemon gelatin mixture. Fold in the lime gelatin cubes. Pour into pan. Chill at least 5 hours or overnight. Run knife or spatula between sides of dessert and pan, and remove sides of pan before serving. If desired, spread additional prepared whipped topping or whipped cream on to and sides. Makes 16 servings.

Crown Jewel Pie:

Prepare Crown Jewel Dessert, pouring mixture into two crumb-lined pie pans. (You may substitute ladyfingers for the crumb lining if you wish. Use about 18 ladyfingers, split. Line the bottoms of the pans; then cut remaining ladyfingers in half crosswise and line the sides of pans.)

Crown Jewel Mold:

Prepare Crown Jewel Dessert, ommiting crumb mixture and pour into 3-quart mold.

Daly City Couple Engaged to Marry

Our Lady of Mercy Church in Daly City has been reserved for the September 13 wedding of Carol Ann Tregenza and Jay Albert Hanson.

The engagement was announced at a recent dinner party by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Tregenza of Daly City. Jay's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin G. Hanson of Daly City, also attended the dinner.

The bride-elect and her fiance both attended Westmoor High School. She is the sister of Mrs. Gary Low and Daniel Tregenza and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Harris of Daly City.

Jay also studied at the College of San Mateo and served two years in the Naval Reserve. He is the brother of Christopher A. Hanson and the grandson of Mrs. Agnes J. Hanson, and Mr. and Mrs. Lelio Martinelli, all of Daly City.

The couple will meet their guests after the wedding at a reception at the Apostleship of the Sea auditorium in San Francisco.

San Bruno Man Is Wed on Saturday

Pink and white floral bouquets decorated the altar of the Queen of Apostles Church for the wedding of Rhea Jean Yiskis and Roy Guy Ellis Saturday afternoon.

The Rev. John Pecze officiated at the ceremony which was followed by a reception in the Odd Fellows Hall. The couple departed on a honeymoon to Los Angeles and will make their first home in San Bruno.

Rhea, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Yiskis of Cupertino, chose a bridal gown of white silk satin with a bateau neckline, Empire bodice and appliques of reembroidered Alencon lace. The A-line skirt fell into a court train, and she carried white roses and stephanotis.

Lime green, floor-length gowns with Empire bodices were chosen by the attendants who included Mrs. Ronald Kipley, sister of the bride, as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Ralph Sheely and Mrs. Michael Mattier, and they carried roses and carnations in yellow and white tones.

Debbie Slate acted as flower girl in a lime green ffrock. Her ensemble was accented with yellow carnations.

Michael Mattier stood with Roy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Meyer of San Bruno, as best man. Ronald Kipley and Ralph Sheely seated the guests.

Mrs. Yiskis witnessed her daughter's wedding in a champagne colored silk dress with long sleeves and an A-line skirt. Mrs. Ellis chose a pink dress and jacket ensemble with a jeweled collar, and both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

GETS PLAQUE AND FLOWERS — San Bruno Lions Club showed their appreciation to Lion Wilton Smith and his wife Elnora by awarding him a plaque and her some roses at their last meeting. Lion Smith has to resign from the club after eight years of service because of a job transfer. At right is club president Hank Sari.

Discipline To Be Topic at Club Meeting

"Discipline," will be Dr. Jerome Diamond's topic at the monthly meeting of the Coastside Mothers of Twins club tonight at the Moonraker in Pacifica at 7:30 p.m.

All parents of twins are invited to attend.

Dr. Diamond, who completed his internship and residency in pediatrics and communicable diseases at Cook County Hospital in Chicago, is on the staff at Peninsula, Mills and Mary's Help Hospitals.

Thomasville
Now for your home furniture with a splendor once found only in Spanish Baroque design. With lavish Baroque scrolls masterfully carved in door panels. With the metalwork embellishment beloved by the Spanish-decorative hung plates and post straps finished like antique verdigris. With weighty table tops and turned legs (note that impressive trestle table!) Veneers are pecan; solids are pecan and other premium hardwoods; the Dowry finish is a warm wood tone. Carvings are executed in solid pecan, except the scroll pattern of the high poster bed and the fleur de lis on the armoire pediment which are simulated wood. Accent colors in the Spanish palette (Fiesta Red, Sierra Yellow, Vintage Green) are available on certain pieces. For you who love drama in your decorating, Flamenco is the furniture to see!

Easter Seal Campaign Steaming Ahead

Mrs. Littleton C. Barkley, chairman of the 1969 Easter Seal Campaign, has announced that more than 152,000 appeal letters have been mailed to San Mateo County residents.

"Our great need," explained Mrs. Barkley, "is to let the residents of San Mateo County know that the Easter Seal appeal is not for some 'far-away thing,' but that the contributions are used right here in our own community to serve the physically handicapped at the Rehabilitation Center. This is a non-profit, voluntary organization operating on funds received through the annual Easter Seal Campaign and other private donations. All officers and the board of directors are volunteers and the preparation of the campaign has been done by loyal volunteers including dozens of dedicated teenagers."

Patients are received through medical referral, and fees for treatment are based on the individual's ability to pay. No one is denied treatment, because the Easter Seal contributions are used to cover these costs.

The Rehabilitation Center offers both therapeutic treatment and vocational training. The physical therapy department contains a deep therapeutic pool as well as a modern gymnasium designed for all types of rehabilitative therapy.

The speech department serves both children and adults for a variety of speech and hearing problems from delayed language, stuttering and tongue thrust, to adults who are aphasic due to stroke or accident.

The occupational therapy department offers treatment designed to assist the patient in the activities of daily living and a pre-vocational evaluation prepared to evaluate the patient's feasibility for work and work potential. There is also a work activities center under the supervision of the occupational therapy department where young adult handicapped persons are given a program of vocational training, recreation and socialization. There is additionally a combined program of physical and occupational therapy, together with work tolerance evaluation for the victim of occupational accident or illness.

The rehabilitation production workshop provides adult vocational training, work evaluation and conditioning. Through the use of sub-contract from industry these clients are remunerated for their work. The ultimate objective of this workshop is to place the client in employment so that he may be a productive, self-reliant member of the community.

Mrs. Barkley emphasized, "When catastrophic accident or illness such as stroke, paraplegia, loss of communication, arthritis, nerve and muscular diseases strike, requiring long-term rehabilitation, the young family who does not have large resources, or the middle-aged, whose life-long resources are rapidly depleted, have no place to turn except to a facility such as this. The gratification of the contributor is in knowing he has helped his friend and neighbor in this plight."

Department Heads Set For Skyline

Five more key administrators have been appointed for San Mateo Junior College District's new Skyline College, President Philip C. Garlington announced today.

Skyline, now nearing completion, is located at the end of College Drive in the Pacific Heights section of San Bruno. It is scheduled to open to students next September.

The latest appointments, already approved by district trustees, are as follows:

David G. Biddinger, currently employed as the district's building inspector on the Skyline project, manager of services;

Richard R. Smith of San Mateo, now head of the music department at College of San Mateo, chairman of the fine arts division;

James F. Trainer Jr., San Mateo, biology instructor at CSM since 1964, chairman of the life science division;

Ronald F. Weidman, San Mateo, CSM speech and English teacher since 1958, head of the drama department;

Master Teacher Plans

Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan (D-SSF) has introduced legislation designed to encourage good teachers to continue teaching.

The bill calls for a two-year pilot program to select and certify "master teachers" in two districts of the state. Ryan said, "It is the intent and purpose of the bill to encourage teachers to attain excellence in their profession and to provide them with incentives to that end in the form of both special recognition and material reward."

"The legislature has determined that in the education of youth, the teacher is paramount and that all other functions in school are secondary and supportive to the teacher's role. Yet, in recent years the departure from the classroom of eminently qualified teachers has occurred at an alarmingly accelerated pace. Teachers are impelled to pursue non-teaching careers in order to secure the personal recognition and material rewards which their ability as educators can command."

The program prescribes procedures for the issuance of certificates to persons appointed "certified master teachers" and provides that they be paid an extra stipend above regular salary of $4000 dollars. The criteria for the selection of certified master teachers requires at least, (a) a master's degree in an academic field, or the equivalent of a master's degree in vocational subjects for which master's degrees are not usually awarded; (b) eight years of total teaching experience, with four years of teaching in the district and (c) the demonstration of "superior teaching ability."

A broad-based selection panel would be established and would receive and review applications from teachers desiring the certificate. The application would be passed by a majority of the panel.

Teacher Role Must Change, Says Expert

Neither higher salaries nor smaller classes nor new equipment will substantially improve education unless the roles of the also drastically change, a noted educator said here this week.

Dr. J. Lloyd Trump, addressing San Mateo elementary school district teachers and principals, called for large-scale reorganization of school systems to provide the motivation of students that is too often inhibited in conventional school programs. He is associate secretary of the National Association of secondary school principals in Washington, D.C.

"The real world of students is in the present," Dr. Trump said. "Five years ago is ancient history; five years ahead is the indefinite, distant future. Motivation must relate to the pupil's present environment, which is extremely limited for ghetto youth, only a little wider for suburban youngsters, and in both cases, superficially but strongly enhanced by television and the mass media."

There is no research or statistical evidence to show that smaller classes improve learning or teaching, Dr. Trump said. In fact, there is considerable evidence indicating that classes as large as 70 students are more effective if certain other factors are present, including opportunities for continuous progress of each child, for the improvement of discussion skills and interpersonal relations between teacher and student, and individualized evaluation of each student without the "rat psychology" of rewards and punishments reflected in grading and testing.

Seamanship Course Opens

The United States Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 18, is offering an eight-week course in basic seamanship which will meet every Wednesday evening at 8 p.m., at the Moore School, 700 Peninsula Avenue, Burlingame, beginning March 19.

The class is co-ed, there are no restrictions, participants do not need to be boatowners. There are no tuition charges or fees. Graduates will be eligible for membership in the Coast Guard Auxiliary and will be permitted to take advanced Coast Guard Auxiliary and Naval institute courses if they wish. Further information may be obtained from U.S.C.G., 12th District, 630 Sansome Street, San Francisco, or the Moore School.

Jet Noise Control Plan

SACRAMENTO — "Now is the time to sound off on jet noise," said Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan (D-SSF) commenting about 3 bills he co-authored last week. The package bills introduced by Assemblyman John Foran are designed to cut down on "ear pollution" and if enacted would permit airports to establish "noise standards" and levy fines of up to $1000 to the operator of a plane that exceeds them.

Charter Night Anniversary

The Pacifica Jaycees will hold their fifth anniversary charter night at Nick's Rockaway restaurant on March 29.

Highlighting the meeting will be the chapter's "Outstanding Man of the Year" award, presenting to a man, 21 to 36 years, judged to be "outstanding" in service to his community.

Bill Damron, Jaycee secretary, noted the key note speaker will be a "prominent individual."

$1,414 Loot On Coastside

Theft of articles valued at $1,414 from an El Granada home was under investigation by sheriff's detectives today.

Andrew A. Santa told Reserve Deputy R. W. Wunderlich that he and his family returned to their home at 790 Francisco Street Saturday night after visiting in Woodside to find all doors standing open and the place ransacked.

Wunderlich said it appeared that the thief got in by prying a rear door open.

Among the missing items were a camera, tape recorder, two silver candlesticks, jewelry, a bedspread, two wristwatches, several articles of clothing and a $500 set of silverware.

As Springtime Fancies Turn, Special Celebrations Come to Mind

As springtime fancies turn to thoughts of love and such, special celebrations come to mind as well. For these occasions, baked breads are greatly enhanced with the flavorsome sweetness of California seedless raisins.

As traditionl as shamrocks, the popular Irish Raisin Soda Bread is delicious for St. Patrick's Day. California seedless raisins and caraway seeds add authentic touches to the quickly made biscuit dough. Cut the dough round into quarters called "farls" and bake. A light crusting of butter and sugar on top makes it even more delectable.

Children especially will delight in an Easter lamb bread filled with lots of raisins and bright candied cherries. A package of hot roll mix is a special convenience feature in this recipe. The lamb mold is available in hardware and variety stores, but the bread is easily baked in a loaf pan or shaped into a round on a greased cookie sheet.

Reputed to bring good luck to all who ate them, hot cross buns are a traditional Lenten serving. Our delicious variation, made with instant potato flakes and California raisins, is sure to do you proud. Decorate the baked buns with a cross of powdered sugar icing.

Irish Soda Bread

IRISH RAISIN SODA BREAD

California seedless raisins are dotted throughout this light and tender bread — a real tribute to the wearing of the green!

- 2-3 cup California seedless raisins
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoons baking powder
- ¾ teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1½ teaspoons caraway seeds
- 3 tablespoons shortening
- 1 cup buttermilk
- Melted butter and sugar for top

Chop raisins coarsely, if desired. Resift flour with baking powder, soda, salt and sugar. Add caraway seeds. Cut in shortening until in fine pieces. Make well in center. Pour in buttermilk and add raisins. Mix lightly to moderately soft dough. Turn out on floured board and knead gently a few strokes. Shape into a round and fit into greased 8 or 9-inch layer cake pan. Cut loaf crosswise into quarters about 2-3 way through dough with a sharp knife. Brush top with melted butter and sprinkle with sugar. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Makes about 6 to 8 servings.

EASTER LAMB RAISIN BREAD

Plump California seedless raisins in this bread will delight youngsters as much as the shape.

- 1 (13¾-ounce) package hot roll mix
- ¾ cup warm water
- ¼ cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons soft butter
- 1 egg
- 1 cup California seedless raisins
- ½ cup candied cherries

Add yeast from hot roll mix to warm water; stir to dissolve. Beat in sugar and half of dry ingredients; add butter, beaten egg and remaining dry mixture. Cover and let rise about 1½ hours until doubled in size. Coarsely chop raisins and cherries. Mix into dough. Turn dough into greased 2-quart lamb mold. Place cover on mold and let rise 45 minutes in warm place. Place mold on baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 40 minutes. Remove top of mold and continue baking 15 to 20 minutes longer until bread tests done. Cool bread in mold 10 minutes, then turn out on rack. Makes 1 loaf.

HOT CROSS POTATO BUNS

Prior to Christianity, hot cross buns were made by the Greeks and Romans — the cross signifying the four quarters of the moon.

- 1 cup California seedless raisins
- ½ cup candied cherries
- ¾ cup boiling milk
- ¼ cup instant potato flakes
- ¼ cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- ¼ cup shortening
- 1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
- ¼ cup warm water (105 to 115 degrees F.)
- 2¾ to 3 cups sifted flour
- Melted butter
- Sugar icing

Chop raisins coarsely. Cut cherries in quarters. Combine milk, potato flakes, sugar, salt, nutmeg and shortening; cool to lukewarm. Meanwhile, dissolve yeast in warm water in warm bowl. Beat together cooled milk mixture, yeast, fruits and half of flour until thoroughly mixed. Add enough remaining flour so dough cleans bowl. Turn out onto floured board and knead lightly. Place in greased bowl. Cover and let rise about 1½ hours until light and doubled. Shape into 24 equal sized balls; flatten slightly. Place on greased baking sheet. Let rise again about 30 minutes until light. Brush with melted butter and bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Cool. Decorate top of each with cross of sugar icing. Makes 2 dozen buns. SUGAR ICING: Mix ½ cup powdered sugar with 1 tablespoon water.

Raspberries And Peaches

Swirl drained canned cling peach slices and frozen or canned raspberries through soft vanilla ice cream.

Spoon into cooky crumb pie shell and slip into freezer only long enough to firm up ice cream. Cut into wedges and garnish with cooky crumbs.

Ground Beef Complements Many Foods–Always a Good Mixer

Ground beef, an innovation not of Americans but of the ancient Egyptians, has the reputation of being a good mixer. It complements any number of foods from subtly-flavored vegetables to spicy sauces; and it's relatively easy to prepare.

The Egyptians found grinding necessary to tenderize their very tough meats; today, ground beef is equally popular, because it offers a convenient way to feed a couple or a crowd.

In preparing such menus, molasses may fit in, whether used in the following tasty ground beef recipes, or as a glaze for vegetables or a baking ingredient.

Molasses if full of vitamins and minerals, especially iron.

The new flavor in this beef and rice dinner is a zesty barbecue sauce. It's made the easy two-ingredient way, a combination of molasses and prepared mustard. These two pantry shelf staples bring new flavor excitement to this delicious casserole.

Serve it to your Peninsula guests with a fresh green salad; and have a creamy pudding for dessert. It makes a nice texture contrast to the entree. It's a simple meal, but delicious; so make sure that there's enough for seconds!

Chevrolet next month will enter the sports-utility market with a new smaller four-wheel-drive model called the Blazer. It incorporates many specifications and features asked for by prospective customers in an extensive survey made last year.

The study showed that recreational and business users would be receptive to a somewhat larger, more powerful, higher styled utility vehicle with better riding, handling, and steering for both on and off road driving.

Designed for both business and pleasure use, the Chevrolet four-wheel-drive Blazer combines high styling with a strong single-unit body on a durable 104-inch wheelbase chassis.

It is offered in six and eight-cylinder models with 155 and 200 hp. A 255 hp V8 is optional. In addition to the standard 3-speed manual transmission, a 4-speed manual and a 3-speed automatic are available. An optional fiber glass hard-top roof converts the standard open model to a station wagon type closed vehicle. Seating combinations are offered to accommodate up to five adults in comfort. A full line of options includes power steering and brakes, bucket seats and carpeting, heavy duty shock absorbers and springs, radio, tinted glass, and many dress-up items such as bright exterior moldings, wheel covers, chromed bumpers and hub caps, and color-keyed custom interiors.

Ford Division's 13-state western region regained sales leadership in both passenger cars and trucks over its nearest competitor in calendar year 1968, it was revealed in official registrations released by R. L. Polk Company.

Ford had leadership in 1966 after trailing in second position in the west since 1959, but lost the front-running spot in 1967 as the result of a two-month United Auto Workers strike.

Polk's figures for the year of 1968 show Ford with 249,242 passenger cars registered in the west against the competitors 240,529 units. Truck sales showed an even wider lead by Ford, with 121,837 registration as compared with the competitor's 102,528 units.

Polk's figures showed Ford with 150,142 passenger units registered in California against the competitors 150,378 units. In truck registrations, Ford's lead in the state was nearly 12 per cent, with 61,100 registrations versus 54,776 units. Of the combined registrations of vehicles in the western region by Ford and its nearest competitor, California registrations accounted for 65 per cent of the passenger cars and more than 50 per cent of the trucks.

In disclosing Ford Division's figures in the western sales race, O. Fred Yando, regional sales manager, noted that "Much of the momentum western Ford dealers were able to achieve can be attributed to continuing strong demand for the standard-size Ford, especially the luxury LTD."

He also pointed out that Mustang maintained a commanding lead in the sporty compact segment of the market, and Torino justified its early promise in the large market for intermediates.

Cadillac sales records were rewritten in February as the division reported new highs for the month, the last 10 day selling period and a daily selling rate that is the best of any month ever, according to Calvin J. Werner, general manager of the division and vice president of General Motors.

"For the month, February domestic deliveries totaled an even 21,700, an 18.4 per cent increase over the former period record of 17,179 set a year ago," Werner stated.

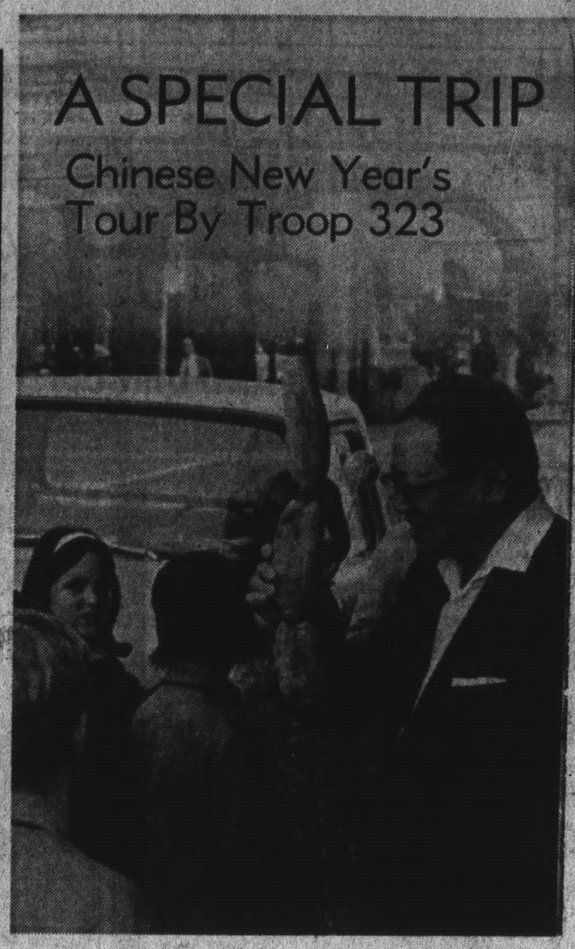
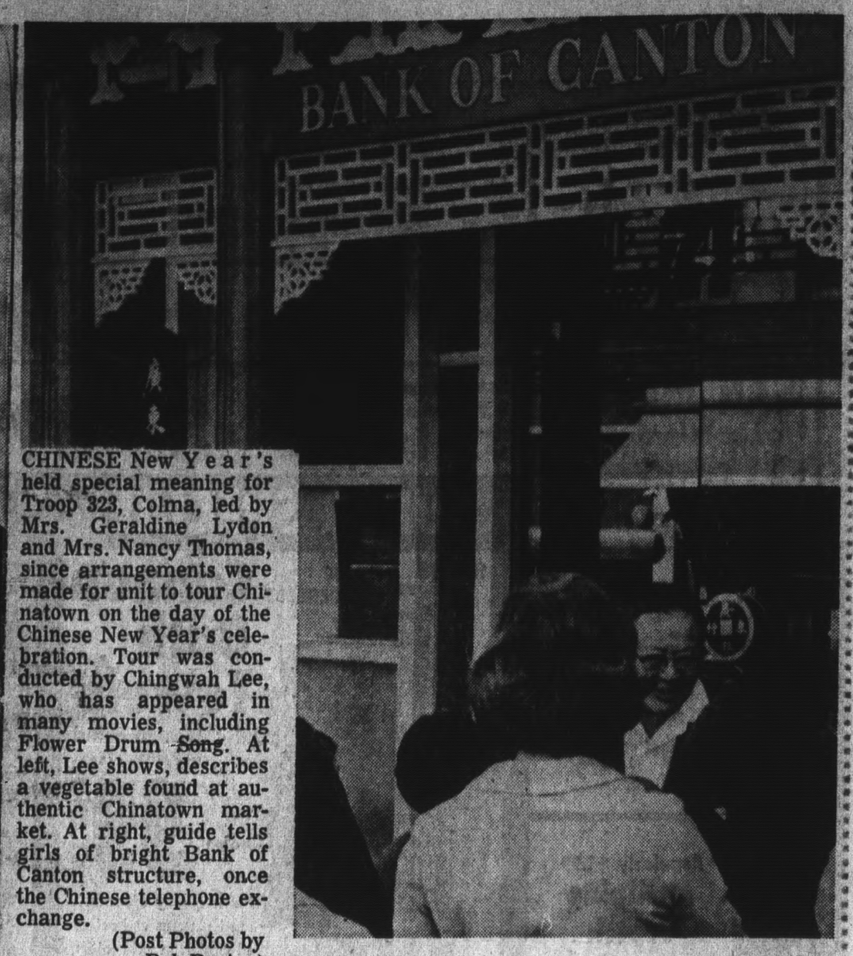
A SPECIAL TRIP

Chinese New Year's Tour By Troop 323





CHINESE New Year's held special meaning for Troop 323, Colma, led by Mrs. Geraldine Lydon and Mrs. Nancy Thomas, since arrangements were made for unit to tour Chinatown on the day of the Chinese New Year's celebration. Tour was conducted by Chingwah Lee, who has appeared in many movies, including Flower Drum ~~Song~~. At left, Lee shows, describes a vegetable found at authentic Chinatown market. At right, guide tells girls of bright Bank of Canton structure, once the Chinese telephone exchange.

(Post Photos by Bob Burton)

BARBARA KILER and Linda Matve of Colma Girl Scout Troop 323 listen intently to guide during Chinese New Year's Day tour of Chinatown as part of troop's daylong study of International Friendship.

ALL EYES UP seems to be the order, as Girl Scouts and some brothers and sisters scan the horizons of more modern, towering Chinatown buildings.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

By DONALD C. WAITE

DECORATING WITH FLORAL PATTERNS

Many parts of the home furnishings field have seen the increasing use of floral designs.

Whether you like floral patterns large or small, in vivid or subdued colors — they are in full bloom with the widest possible selection to help you add eternal spring to your home decor.

Aside from the color and beauty of floral designs in upholstery and floor coverings, they have very practical features: They don't show wear, soil or fading nearly as much as solid colors.

Generally, and there are exceptions, florals and solids are used for contrast, such as a flowered carpet with solid colors on sofas and chairs, and vice versa.

Not only mattress and box springs but sheets and pillow cases may be had in such beautiful florals that they may be used without bedspreads.

If your floors and seating pieces are in flat colors, you can consider giving a room a beautiful look by using possibly floral throw pillows, lamp shades, wallpaper, draperies or curtains, window shades or other floral accessories. The choice is limitless.

And, whether you want florals or solids, tweeds or stripes, you will always find our store the place to shop for the latest and nicest things.

Millbrae Nixes Bruno 'Merger'

"We have no interest in this subject at this time," Millbrae Mayor Bernard Esser said last week while reporting on overtures from San Bruno about possibly joining the two cities.

Reporting to his Council that Millbrae had been invited to a San Bruno Chamber of Commerce luncheon to discuss such a possibility, Esser added:

"It seems to me in order to write a letter to the San Bruno Chamber, advising them that we will not attend this luncheon, and that such a move is not the desires of the City of Millbrae."

Councilman James O'Connor happily offered such a motion, directing that copies of the letter be "sent to the press, since this story has had such interest in the press."

Could Alter Lines

Councilwoman Josephine Waugh commented jokingly that San Bruno Councilman Karney Barberian "had better watch out. If he wants to be in Millbrae so much, we may just let him."

(Barberian's house is in San Bruno, but close enough to Millbrae's city limits that a slight alteration of the lines would move it into the southerly city.)

Council members indicated they were slightly annoyed at reports that Mayor Esser had been toying with the idea of joining with San Bruno in creating a single city.

"I suggest," said Councilman Lewis Grasberger, "that we word the letter to say we are not interested in 'annexing' San Bruno at this time."

Councilmen also spent some time discussing trees, which may be planted in the sidewalks along El Camino Real, as soon as a crop of money is raised.

Although agreeing that beautification of the street was necessary, as proposed last month by the Chamber of Commerce, Councilwoman Waugh objected when her fellow board members suggested using either gas tax or hotel tax funds for the tree-planting.

"We are going to need those funds," she pointed out. "We can't just keep chipping away at them."

Mrs. Waugh said the gas tax funds are more or less dedicated to the Millbrae Avenue-El Camino overpass expected within a few years.

Saying they "appreciated" the $18,000 estimate City Engineer Val Padovan had reported, Councilmen agreed to do more planning and "get some hard costs" before going and bringing the project back to the Council at budget time.

One possibility, suggested City Administrator Richard Watson, might be to appoint a City "City Beautification" committee, and let them take over these projects. Watson said this approach has proven very successful in other cities, and gives garden clubs and such groups a means of working with the city.

Councilmen approved an ordinance establishing a deadline for final subdivision maps to be recorded, and authorized an agreement with consultant Robert Bernicchi to survey the city's sewage plant operations.

Bernicchi is to be paid $2,190 for an analysis, $1,160 for an "operations manual," and $12.50 to $15 per hour for follow-up services to be listed later.

Ryan Speaks At Glen Oaks

Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, 26th District, will be the guest speaker at the March 13 meeting of Glen Oaks P-TA.

His subject will be, "What Makes a Good School." Ryan was a teacher at Capuchino High School at one time and live with his family in Burlingame.

The hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Terzian's classroom mother and helpers.

In addition, the election and installation of new officers for the P-TA will take place. Mrs. Howard Brewster, parliamentarian, will be in charge of the installation. Nominees for the offices are: president (second term) Mrs. Clyde Osborne; honorary vice president, Harold Fritz, principal; vice-president, Mrs. Charles Hernandez; recording secretary, Mrs. Harry MacKenzie; corresponding rian, Mrs. Ralph Dunshee and auditor, Mrs. George Ternian.

Mrs. Coy Staggs was the recipient of the Glen Oaks honorary life membership award. She received it during the February meeting. Mrs. Staggs has been on the P-TA Board, holding many championships, since 1963. Mrs. Staggs, who lives with her family on Hacienda Way, has two children in Capuchino High School and one child in Glen Oaks School.

Paper Rack Arrest Made

A 25-year-old San Bruno man was arrested by San Mateo police after officers said newspapers were taken from a rack and attempting to pry open the rack's coin box.

Police said that Peter W. Kienle, 2805 Fleetwood, has been charged with petty theft and malicious mischief.

The suspect, police said, was seen making off with a bundle of Sunday morning papers from the rack located at the Woodlake Shopping Center at about 2:20 a.m.

According to the report, the suspect, a six-foot, 280-pound white man, was apprehended at the intersection of San Mateo Drive and Poplar. Search of his car produced several broken locks of the type used on paper coin racks and tools used to pry off the boxes.

The suspect told officers that he was a route man in the Montain View area and that he needed the locks and tools in his work.

He was taken to city jail where he was booked.

Stamp Drive Is Launched

Crestmoor High School P-TA is currently sponsoring a Blue Chip Stamp drive, in order to purchase an exercise gym set for the boy's P.E. Department.

Coach Craig Brown, of the P.E. Department is handling the collection, and from latest reports, the response has been very good.

A total of 1500 books are needed, so the boys are really scrambling to obtain enough so the gym set can be ordered and in use by this spring.

Mixed Reaction To Pilgrimage

By DON GRIERSON

After a full day of personal conferences with state legislators, Gov. Ronald Reagan, and other officials in Sacramento, participants in the "Equalize Education Now" campaign, returned to Pacifica and Daly City last week with mixed feelings about chances for additional state aid to "low wealth" school districts.

Fred Lucas, superintendent of the Laguna Salada Elementary School District, said he was pleased with the turnout of nearly 600 teachers, parents and taxpayers, and termed their efforts "highly successful" after reviewing reports from volunteer teams who met with 41 assemblymen and senators.

"Grading" the legislators on a four-point scale, Lucas said 21 were "very favorable" in their attitude toward statewide equalization, 11 were rated "favorable," 6 "unfavorable" and 3 "negative."

Appear Concerned

"It would seem from these evaluations that there is significant concern among our legislators over the problems of education," Lucas said, "and support for AB 409 (an assembly bill which would proivde an additional $3.65 million in aid to local school districts next year."

However, Jefferson Elementary School District Supt. Frank Greenwood, one of four local school officials who met with Governor Reagan in a 45-minute afternoon session, was less optimistic in his assement of the governor's reaction.

"He agreed that there is an urgent need for revision of the state's tax structure, but gave no time schedule or any definite program," Greenwood said.

"We pointed out some of the inequities which exist in San Mateo County, but the presentation appeared to ring no bells."

Governor Reagan mentioned his proposal for allocating an additional $105 million for education this year, Greenwood said, but was "not very responsive" when the school officials stated his proposed allocation is "about one-third of what is needed."

Other priorities

"The governor and State Finance Director Casper Weinberger informed us that there are priorities other than education," he said.

Directors of the "Equalize Education Now" campaign had originally planned to assign eight local officials to participate in the conference with the governor, but his staff reduced the number of participants to four.

In additon to Greenwood, Jefferson Union High School Supt. Ed Morgan and Laguna Salada Trustees Stan Farber and Dale Buettgenback attended the session with the governor.

Among those "deleted" from the conference were Jefferson Elementary School District Board Chairman Ed Tomasello and Daly City Mayor Bernard Lycett.

Dolwig Speech

Assemblyman Leo Ryan, State Supt. of Education Dr. Max Rafferty and Senator Richard Dolwig spoke to the "demonstrators" at a noon rally on the capitol steps.

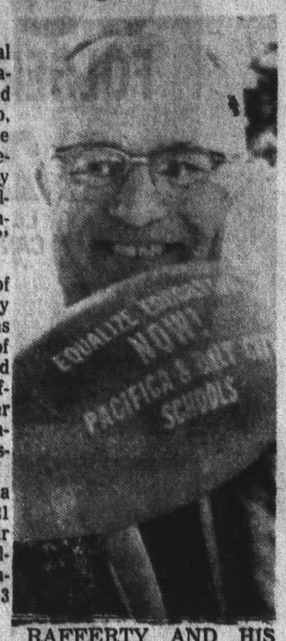
Ryan, who met the local residents in front of the capitol Tuesday morning, expressed appreciation for the display of "citizen participation in government."

"Your coming here today will have more positive effect upon the course of affairs than anything done since I have served in the Assembly," he said.

"With this kind of support, we can get the money necessary to meet the needs of education. If you can muster enough public support, you can get the money," he said.

Riots Hurt Funds

"I am aware that this is a pilgrmage, and not a 'demonstration' in the usual sense," the assemblyman said. "The demonstrations, student riots and teacher strikes are responsible for the lack of support for education, and the reason you have to be here today."



RAFFERTY AND HIS RED BALLOON — Superintendent of Public Instruction Max Rafferty is all smiles as he walks to his office carrying a balloon which was given to him after he spoke at a rally in front of the Capitol March 4th. It was given to him by parents and teachers from the Laguna Salada School District in Pacifica and Daly City who came to Sacramento to ask legislators for more state financial aid for rural and suburban schools.

Dr. Rafferty told the crowd at the rally that he feels AB 409 will be passed during the current legislative session, though there will likely be some amendments.

"This bill will represent the greatest single step toward meeting your demands," he said. "It certainly has the warm support of all of us in education."

"There is no difference of opinion among school people about the need for equalization," Dr. Rafferty said. "Rather, it is strictly a political problem.

Legislators spend money where the votes are, and school children can't vote. That is why our school districts remain unequal.

"I suggest that you hold firm on one point," Dr. Rafferty said, "and that is the idea that the state should furnish one-half the money spent on education in every local district.

"In 1950, the state provided 50 per cent of the financing for education. Now, the figure is down to 33 or 34 per cent.

Would Mean Control

"I think the one-half figure is the most desirable. If the state contribution grows much larger than that, then you will have state control over the local districts," he said.

Senator Dolwig told the audience at the rally he has advocated equalization of school districts for more than ten years, "and now we have a bill before us which represents a first step.

"You are doing a remarkable job of letting the legislature know about your problems," he told the crowd.

"Laid the Groundwork"

"We have laid the groundwork for equalization, and I am confidant your efforts will be availing."

Senator Dolwig said the pending assembly bill will bring in an additional $1.2 million for education in San Mateo County if it is passed in its present form.

Others present at the noon rally included Pacifica Mayor Nick Gust, Councilman Grace McCarthy from Pacifica, Senior Citizens' Club President Mrs. Edna Laurel Callan, Chamber of Commerce Mgr. Dan Johns, and a number of other civic and government leaders.

Landscaping Bid Goes For 2nd Highest Offer

The State Director of Public Works Monday approved a new contract for landscaping of two miles of the Serra freeway in the Millbrae-San Bruno area after, a department spokesman said, the firm originally awarded this job failed to execute the contract.

A contract for $188,085 was approved by James A. Moe to Watkin & Sibbald and Watkin & Sibbald Associates of San Anselmo for landscaping the two-mile stretch of Interstate 280 in and near Millbrae and San Bruno.

The Department had earlier awarded the contract to Valley Landscape Construction of Sacramento who had submitted the low bid of $175,222.65.

"Upon this company's failure to execute the contract, the Department awarded the contract to the second lowest bidder," a department release advised.

The extensive planting will include 7,340 trees and 16,265 shrubs. Ground cover will include 215 longleaf mohonia, 159,500 English ivy, 57,930 hottentot fig, 25,040 coyote bush, of the twin peak variety, and 1,680 fish pelargonium.

Dolwig Fears 'Years' Of Delay for Transit

Senator Richard Dolwig Thursday told delegates to a North County Council of Cities meeting San Mateo County will be "stalled" in rapid transit for many years "unless a plan is put forward which gains the necessary public support."

"If our current plans fail, rapid transit will be a long time coming," the senator said.

Dolwig outlined a bill he is currently co-sponsoring which calls for a delay in the vote on the pending West Bay Rapid Transit plan from June until next December.

"Studies on the system have been made, and are now coming before the public," he said, "but more time is needed to gain public support."

"I was one of the authors of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District bill," the senator said, "but we got San Mateo County out of the district after viewing the preliminary plans.

"We must realize, however, that we must have rapid transit sooner or later, and on that premise I set up the West Bay Rapid Transit District bill."

"I have been critical of rapid transit in general," Dolwig said. "It doesn't make sense that we're able to travel in space, but are unable to solve transportation problems here."

The Senate Transportation Committee will begin hearings on the WBRTD bill next Wednesday, according to the senator.

In delaying the vote on WBRTD, San Mateo County would gain another advantage "in that we would have a better idea about what BARTD is going to do," Dolwig said.

The proposed delay would also allow time for perfecting the plans to be presented to the voters, he said.

Daly City Councilman Michael DeBernardi, a member of the WBRTD board, agreed with Senator Dolwig's assessment of the need for a delay in the vote on the system.

"I feel the people of San Mateo County will not get a chance to consider the proposals sufficiently by June 10," he said.

"If our people don't vote intelligently, rapid transit will be taken over by a higher authority, and we will have no say locally," DeBernardi said.

Should the present proposal go to the voters in June, and be voted down, the district would be disbanded, DeBernardi pointed out, "leaving the whole issue up to another jurisdiction."

San Bruno Councilman Maurice Hamilton said it was his understanding "that it is mandatory that the present proposal be presented to the voters in June, and that the district be abandoned if they do not approve it."

"There simply isn't enough time to present it by June 10," Dolwig said. "My bill would remove the mandatory election in June, and extend the life of the district at least until December."

"There are presently five regional government bills pending," he said. "If one of these passes, then the regional government could take over and develop rapid transit."

John Sherman, Pacifica city attorney, said there is "concern among the taxpayers that the WBRTD board will proceed with a plan which the board members like, but the people don't."

A number of north county officials were critical of the WBRTD proposals thus far revealed.

"What good will the rapid transit system do us if it goes through our city, but there are no feeder lines?" South San Francisco Mayor Frank Bertucelli asked. "We have never been told whether we will have feeder lines or not."

Pacifica Mayor Nick Gust also expressed dissatisfaction over the lack of plans for feeder lines in his city.

"It is important that local meetings be held to determine local needs," Dolwig said.

"There is presently only one plan to cover the entire area betwen Daly City and San Jose," DeBernardi said.

Pacifica Councilman Harland Minshew said he is unhappy with the WBRTD proposals in general, because of the "minor benefits" to be realized by his city.

"How can we talk about rapid transit and mass transit when future development will be on the coastside, and all we can get is rubber-tire busses, and we have no roads for the busses?," Minshew asked.

Following the rapid transit discussion, Senator Dolwig outlined a number of pending proposals for property tax reform.

"The governor's staff has recommended that the $700 homeowner's exemption instituted last year be increased to $1000," he said, "and this appears to be possible."

"But the area from which real property tax relief must come is school financing.

"We are very much aware of this problem, and I have coauthored a bill to repeal AB 272 (a bill which would remove the taxation limit from school districts in 1971.)"

Dolwig also cited a number of proposals now under consideration to provide statewide equalization of schools, a move which would benefit "low wealth" school districts such as those in Daly City and Pacifica.

"We hope to establish a law setting a minimum amount to be spent on each child in school," he said.

The Thursday night meeting was held at the Leaning Tower Restaurant in South San Francisco, with Mayor Bertucelli and the South San Francisco Council serving as hosts.

Mysterygrams

FEUD FOR THOUGHT—Daly City mayor Bud Lycett isn't about to sweep that Sacramento snub under the political carpet and forget it! Riding in a car for hours so he could sit in on talks concerning the plight of local school districts with Governor Reagan and Finance Director Cap Weinberger, as a representative of the people in this area, and then finding out at the Moment of Truth he wasn't wanted around, doesn't sit well with the fiery mayor.

FOR THE PAST TWO YEARS (and perhaps longer) Lycett and his council have been battling AB 272 — the little bombshell that would blow the lid off the tax rate limit and allow school districts to levy whatever tax rate they felt was right against homeowners. Some folks, including Lycett, liken this law to letting a small child loose in a candy store.

The law was passed in 1967 and becomes effective in July 1971. If Senator Richard Dolwig's latest move to abolish the tax rate limit portion of AB 272 doesn't get through in time, those homeowners presently on the brink of financial disaster will be pushed over the edge, Lycett feels.

☆ ☆

AND SO, WHEN HE HEARD of the Seige of Sacramento by some 600 concerned parents, school trustees and politicians, he let it be known that he wanted in. And he was "in"—at least until he got to the State Capitol. That's when a certain Laguna Salada School Board trustee decided to take over and handed down his decision on who would see Reagan and who would not. You see folks, this fellow felt that Pacifica had tossed out the first ball in this game (it WAS their idea) and they alone should have an audience with the Governor. It finally ended with two trustees from Laguna Salada, superintendent Frank Greenwood (Jeff Elementary) and superintendent Ed Morgan (Jeff High) chatting with Reagan and what was accomplished is still not clear to most of the people who made the pilgrimage.

LYCETT DENIES HE WANTED to meet with Reagan simply for political gain. He whips out a three page telegram sent by Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan on the night prior to the journey (which he picked up at his front doorstep the morning of the journey) which indicates the choice of who would get in to see the Governor was up to Lycett. The message offered two alternatives and certain conditions for the much-heralded meeting. But what Lycett DID NOT know was, Ryan's office sent out at least seven other identically-worded telegrams. Bob Caughlan, Ryan's administrative assistant, told this columnist the telegram "went out to about 100 people." What irks many recipients of the telegram is the fact that they were never contacted regarding this little matter and Ryan's office could just as well have saved the cost of sending out the lengthly communication.

CALIFORNIA ONCE PAID some 60 per cent of the cost of educating youngsters in the area. It now pays closer to 30 per cent. They've placed the rising costs directly on the school districts involved, thus the homeowner. And this is Lycett's main concern, he said. This is why he wanted "all the way in" at the Capitol meeting, he said. This is his concern, he said. If you listen, you can believe Lycett who answers many of his own questions with shocking simplicity.

Example: What's going to happen to our senior citizens who now live on a small fixed income if they raise the tax rate on their homes anymore? It (the tax) will kill them, that's what Added example: Doesn't anyone care anymore about these people? I do, and that's a fact!

HE ISN'T AGAINST EDUCATION, Lycett says. "I'm not talking about throwing out education, I certainly have nothing against that . . . I'm talking about the SOURCE of the money for this purpose. It has got to stop being the property tax."

He suggests many other sources for the needed funding, including oil interests, paid television, gas taxes and the sales tax. "Spread it around, get it off the shoulders of the homeowner," the mayor explains.

THE SAD PART OF THE TRIP, one school district trustee related as he brushed his ruffled feathers, was many folks didn't come home with the same feelings they went to Sacramento with.

But he adds that there is no split in the joint efforts of all districts and peoples concerned with the emergency. "The nature of the problem will not allow a split in our stand . . . the spirit of the issue just won't allow it," he said.

Science 'n Cherries

Some lines from an old song read:

"Can she make a cherry pie,
Billy Boy, Billy Boy?
Can she make a cherry pie,
Charming Billy."

Were it not for the activities of engineers at Michigan State University, Billy Boy would have to answer, "No." The cost of cherries would, in all probability, have made it impossible for her to buy the cherries.

Harvesting cherries has been a most expensive operation, so the Michigan State group under the leadership of Jordan H. Levin developed a strange-looking machine with a mechanical arm that shakes cherries from the trees into a net spread beneath. In Michigan alone, cherry picking machines harvest a crop that would have required 45,000 people to save it.

STRANGER STILL is the story of scientists from the U.S. Department of Agriculture laboratories in Beltsville, Md. They have succeeded in using sex to control harmful insects. Under Martin Jacobson the Beltsville team learned that female insects emit a scent that hits the male insects and turns them on.

So the scientists collect the attractant from females and use it to trap the males and then destroy them, leaving the females unable to reproduce. This man has a key to control such pests as the pink bollworm and the cabbage looper.

These are among the accomplishments of science that may be found in the book "Science for Better Living" which is the 1968 Yearbook of Agriculture. It is a worthy edition to a series that Louis Shores calls truly outstanding.

"Science for Better Living" shows Americans at work in an endeavor to improve the quality of life for all men. Most of them are public servants who work for the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Their goals are stated as "to keep your market basket filled with food, develop new products for your convenience, play a leading role in revitalizing rural communities, and to build better agriculture in poor nations.

There are fifty-nine articles — stories — in the book. These are grouped into five sections: Abundance for All, City and Country, Natural Resources, Growing Nations and World Trade, and For Better Living.

ALL OF THE ARTICLES read like the best from science fiction, yet they are all true. They show a biological science group isolating a hormone that will control injurious insects; a group of chemists producing a spray that makes better apples grow in the orchards and keeps them from falling on the ground.

One story tells of the invention of Wurlan, the washable woolens. Another tells of renovating big game ranges, still another relates the discovery of a better way to destroy waste materials.

The colored picture section greatly enhances the book. The pictures are full of meaning and beautiful.

"Science for Better Living," shows great minds at work in a nation that is still the greatest on earth.

IN THE WORDS of Orville L. Freeman, recently retired secretary of agriculture, "scientific agriculture is the keystone of prosperity in America." Of the scientists he writes, "They have helped beyond measure to project this nation into the first economy of abundance known to man — an economy in which disposable per capita income in 1967 rose to $2,735."

The Twain Never Met

The making of "Hell In The Pacific" sounds like it was just that. Producers Henry Saperstein and Selig Seligman ended up with a fantastically good movie, but their account of four months on location must have given them doubts at times.

The film could have been made in Hawaii, at the back in Catalina Island or even on indoor sets.

But the two sole characters, Lee Marvin and Toshiro Mifune, insisted on returning to the war zone, where they had fought for their respective countries, to recreate the powerful story.

"We leased an Oriental passenger ship, the 9,000-ton Oriental Hero, at a cost of $850,000. There were 70 Hollywood technicians and a full Oriental crew. We brought everything to survive on a desert island: water, nail, screws, lumber, everything," Saperstein recounted.

"Our crew was half Japanese, half American, a Polynesian cameraman, English director and Argentine composer. We lived together, not in complete harmony either, for four months. It was hell," he added.

The story tells of two strong men, face to face on a desolate Pacific island (they chose Palou because it had a big lagoon, mountains and thick growth) 500 air miles from Manila, near Saipan. They are enemies who struggle to confront, to communicate to kill and to survive.

"AT NIGHT WHEN WE'D RETURN TO THE SHIP, Marvin would stick with the Americans and Mifune, who doesn't speak a word of English, would fraternize with the Japanese crew members. There wasn't much friendship between the two, except when they were drinking.

"And Mifune seems to resent American film producers, our money and our methods. He was always challenging me in front of the crew and I always had to refuse his impractical demands. That made him lose face, so we had plenty of tense moments," he added.

This tension is reflected in the film, giving it that added strength. Both actors are perfectionists and that too brought greater impact to the screen.

"We'd rehearsed taking the homemade raft over the reef many times when there were three- and four-foot waves. On the day we were to shoot film, both actors refused to have their doubles or stunt men do the scene. So we all prayed as Marvin and Mifune risked their lives, and our four million dollar picture, against 20 foot waves," Seligman joined in.

"You'll see water spots on the camera lenses, it was so rough. We had natives ready to grab the raft if it tipped over, high powered rifles to fend off sharks. These two nuts had us in a panic."

Saperstein thought up the theme and had the original script written to include certain elements he'd taken from reading the daily newspapers.

"LACK OF COMMUNICATION IS THE MOST IMPORTANT FACET of modern living. What could be more dramatic than the L.A. floods, the N.Y. blackout where people who wouldn't say a word to one another all their lives will overcome or submerge their prejudices and hates when the need is great."

The producers feel the message is elementary. They screened the film for deaf mutes and interviewed them afterwards.

"They knew exactly what the story was about."

Classes In Washington

It is unfortunate all young Americans cannot participate in the program launched on Washington's birthday to bring to the nation's capital students from all parts of the nation to learn firsthand the workings of their government.

"A Presidential Classroom for Young Americans" the program is titled, and the goal is to bring 300 students at a time to Washington for a week's intensive study of the legislative, executive and judicial branches of government. The lucky youths will be chosen by their high school principals, and will be given the trip as a reward for good work in the classroom.

This is the fair way of handling a program of this sort, which of necessity is limited to a small number of youths. But it is too bad some way cannot be found to similarly instruct the student who does poorly in the classroom in what this nation is all about.

He might benefit more than the student who already has demonstrated a measure of appreciation.

150 Attack Police In Wild Melee

A crowd of 150 rampaging Pacifica teen-agers smashed windows, kicked in walls and bombarded police with rocks and bottles Wednesday, during a city-sponsored "Co-Rec" activity at Oceana High School.

Police said custodians at the school telephoned to report a crowd of youths were "taking the place apart while the Co-Rec dance, sponsored by the Parks, Beach and Recreation Department, was going on in the gymnasium about 8:30 p.m.

Officers Douglas Freutel and Ronald Rhen were dispatched to the school to investigate, and found bands of youths roaming the halls of the building.

The "unmanageable" teenagers became abusive toward Fruetel and Rhen when the officers attempted to clear the building, and hurled bricks as they attempted to return to their patrol car.

Youths in the parking lot pelted the patrol car with rocks and bottles, "and started breaking again at an intensified rate," and the two officers called for reinforcements.

Additional policemen were recalled to duty, and the crowd of youths "dissapated" as they arrived on the scene, according to police reports.

There were no arrests.

Police said at least 12 plate glass windows were smashed by the youths, and a 10-foot section of wallboard in a corridor was kicked in.

Estimates of damage have not been fully compiled.

Police said the youths involved in the disturbance were gathered in the parking lot at the school, and were not believed to have been participating in the recreation department activity, which was confined to the gymnasium area.

Police were unable to determine any cause for the gathering of disruptive teen-agers, or what touched off the disturbance.

'Witnesses' Set Assembly In San Mateo

Lowell K. Yeatts, circuit supervisor for 16 San Francisco and peninsula congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses, has announced that the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York will sponsor a three-day circuit assembly at the Hall of Flowers, San Mateo Fairgrounds, March 28-30.

The semi-annual gathering is expected to draw a peak attendance of 1,800.

Larry Garabedian, presiding minister of the Daly City Congregation, will direct the house-to-house ministry activity of the delegates. Dale Dani of Colma is assistant news director. Carl Deaton and Larry De Lorenzi of Pacifica will also serve in administrative positions.

Yeatts, discussing the importance of these gatherings to Jehovah's Witnesses, said, "In going from house to house we use the Bible and give all householders who will listen a brief sermon, perhaps three to eight minutes in length. The house-to-house minister, whether man, woman or youth, trains himself to give his sermon in a coherent, appealing way.

"To be effective in our preaching we learn how to adapt our sermons to a householder's interest. This requires preparation and training and our assemblies are really training programs to equip us in the practical use of the Bible within our communities."

The conference will reach its climax with a public meeting on March 30, at 3 p.m., when Alvyn L. Franck, travelling representative of the Watchtower Society, speaks on the subject, "Law and Order — When and How?".

Infant care is provided during the morning hours.

There is a coffee time between the two services, beginning at 10:30.

There are two Sunday Schools for those of ages 3½ through high school.

Blending a little of the old with a little of the new the Jefferson Indians made a powerful baseball debut Friday downing Woodrow Wilson of San Francisco, 6-0.

Senior hurler Nick Gentile, who started but one unsuccessful game last year, threw a near-perfect one-hitter in his first start of the season. Gentile, who allowed just a scratch single, struck out 10 batters and walked just one.

Sophomore first baseman Smokey Morton went two-for-two in his varsity debut and hit a home run for Tom Martinez' charges. Rightfielder Bruce Davidson put on quite a running display as he stole five bases and got one hit.

No-Hitter for Terra Nova's John Burgess

Hurler Wild, But His Fast Ball Works

John Burgess of Terra Nova High School suffered less from his lack of control than the Mills Vikings did from his fast ball on Friday in a practice season baseball game on the Coastside.

Burgess, who issued 10 walks, also pitched a no-hitter in hurling the Tigers to a 5-1 victory that was their second in three games thus far.

The young right hander, in trouble nearly every inning, was tagged for a run in the fourth inning when he walked four men in succession.

Terra Nova broke a 1-1 tie with a single run in the fifth and added three more one inning later. The Tigers meet Tamalpais next week.

Jefferson Wins Cage Tournament

AUBURN — Setting five tournament records along the way, the Jefferson Indians of the North Peninsula League won the coveted Kendall-Arnett Invitational Tournament Saturday with a close 51-48 victory over Placer High School.

The three straight wins for the Indians gave Jefferson, which finished second in the NPL, a 24-2 season record, the best in the school's history.

"It was our best game of the year by far against one of the toughest teams we have faced all year," Indian coach Mic Kelly enthused. "Placer had two tough players in Ron Childs and Gary Just. In fact, they are have faced from any team."

Down by three points with two minutes left, the Indians rallied behind center Pinky Smith and forward Kirby, who each pumped in jumpers to put Jeff ahead by one. Jeff missed a one-plus-one free throw try but Smith, with just 17 seconds left, tapped and controlled the ball to ice the post-season tournament victory.

Smith had 20 rebounds in the title game.

Records fell before the Indian onslaught. New markers set by Jeff included:

1. Most tournament rebounds by one player — Pinky Smith, 54. Old record Tom Senter, Placer, 53;
2. Most team rebounds in one game — Jeff, 69, vs. Colfax. Old record 53, Placer;
3. Most team rebounds in tournament — Jeff 173. Old record, 148, Placer;
4. Most game points — Jeff, 90, vs. Colfax. Old record, 84; and
5. Most team points in tournament — Jeff, 220. Old record, 216, set twice by Placer, 1966, 1967.

Crestmoor's Falcons Win Triangular

Crestmoor High School, sparked by the sprint performances of Chuck Bommarito, downed Woodside and El Camino Friday in a triangular track meet held at the San Bruno school.

Bommarito, a sophomore who is apparently unhindered by chilly, windy weather, clocked 10 flat for the 100, 22.6 for the 220 and anchored the Falcon 440 relay team to another first. In both individual events, he cracked the school record for time.

The victory was Crestmoor's third without defeat this season and was also aided by Steve Bule, who won the long jump with an impressive 21-9 effort and the triple jump with a 41-0½ mark.

Woodside won both the Class B and Class C meets.

Baseball's Make Or Break Year

THIS MAY BE THE MAKE or break year for baseball. No, we don't mean because it will determine whether fans will swallow some of the class "A" players owners are trying to pass off as big leaguers in the new expansion. We're talking about whether or not the hitters will be able to bounce back.

If they can't, then baseball could be in trouble. After all, this is the game that Ruth built, and Ruth did it with hitting. Americans pay to see digits hung up on the scoreboard (which is one big reason why soccer isn't going over), not zeroes.

It's pretty well agreed among the experts that the new strike zone and the lowering of the mound will make little appreciable change in hitting, and that even if the spitter could be legislated out of existence, it wouldn't cause a dramatic zoom in batting averages. (As far as we're concerned, legalizing the spitter would help hitters—they'd no longer have to guess who was throwing it when they'd know.)

WHAT THE EXPERTS HAVE pretty well settled on now as the reason for weak hitting is the lack of good coaching and subsequent good practicing habits of young players, who are denied these disciplines because they're being force-fed through the systems at such an accelerated pace that they just don't have the time—literally—to bone up on the subject of hitting. Don't pitchers face the same problems, you ask? No, as a matter of fact, they don't.

For one thing, the coaching of pitching currently is more sophisticated than the coaching of hitting. That may very well be because it's easier to coach a kid on pitching than on hitting. Throwing is a more natural function than hitting a small, moving ball with a round stick. A reasonably good baseball man, even if he isn't a pitching expert, can take any strong-armed kid with a passion to learn and have a good chance of making him into a reasonably able hurler. But no matter how big and strong a kid is, no matter how good his eyes are or how quick his reactions are, no matter how expert his coach is, if he hasn't that elusive inherent talent to hit, nobody can make him into a hitter.

ON THE OTHER HAND, many of these kids now being rushed along will never have the opportunity to discover whether or not they really have this talent, because they just don't work at it hard enough, and aren't pushed enough in that direction because of the frenzy of major league club owners to feed their big teams.

Ted Williams, in an interview with Detroit sports columnist Joe Falls (before he was named manager of the Washington Senators), perhaps best tells what's wrong with today's hitters.

"I'll tell you what's wrong with hitting today. First of all, the hardest single thing to do in sports is to hit a baseball. If this is true and it is, then it takes more hours of practice, more hours of dedication, more hours of desire to hit a baseball than it does to do anything else . . .

"When I was a kid . . . I lived one block from a playground . . . I was down there every day at daylight and I had lights to hit under when I was 10 . . .

"I'd go out in my backyard at midnight and swing a bat. I'd be waiting for the janitor to open the school in the morning so I could be the first to get the equipment and the first out on the field.

"Today . . . what have we today? Today we have television . . . cars . . . trailers . . . boats.

"Nobody taught me how to swing. I did it myself. My father didn't have much of a job in those days and we never went anywhere on vacation. I was down at the playground swinging the bat. I must have swung a thousand times a day . . .

"There is no secret to hitting. It takes work—damn hard work."

JOHNNY MURPHY, General Manager of the Mets, came up with a very valid and very simple explanation this past winter for the decline in hitting . . . the poor lighting in minor league parks.

"We sign these 17 and 18 year-old kids right out of high school where they've done nothing but play day baseball," he said in a Sporting News interview, "Then we send them to a Class A rookie club and they play nothing but night ball under the worst lighting conditions you can imagine.

"Most of them have trouble following the ball, much less hitting it."

NO DISCUSSION on hitting can really be complete without a discussion of Babe Ruth, who, with all due respect to Ted Williams (who we feel may be the second greatest hitter of all time), had to be the most fantastic man with a stick who ever lived. Everytime we check his records, we come up with more unbelievable discoveries.

You don't agree that Ruth was unbelievable? How many players do you know of who could hit 60 homers in one season and count that as only about his third best season? Yet that's true. The year Ruth hit his 60, he also hit 29 doubles, eight triples, drove in 164 runs (which didn't lead the league—Lou Gehrig drove in 175 that year), scored 158, leading the league in that department, and batted .356. Pretty good season, right?

But in 1921, the year Ruth hit 59 homeruns, he also hit .378 (which was only tied for his second highest career average), spanked out 204 hits (his second best), 44 doubles (his second best), 16 triples (his personal high), drove in 170 (his best) and scored 177 (the modern major league record). That year he had the second highest one-season slugging mark of all time, .846. He also had the most extra base hits (119) ever belted in a single season, and had the tied-for-highest all-time combined run production of 347 (adding his RBI's and runs scored together). Only that man, again, Lou Gehrig, totaled as many. That's the year (1931) Gehrig hit .341, tied Ruth in homers (46), hit 31 doubles, 15 triples, drove in 184 (the American League record) and scored 163. He also led the league in hits that year with 211.

And then there was 1920. That was the year Ruth had the all-time highest slugging average, .847 . . . just one point above what he was to achieve the next year. All Babe did that season was whack a paltry 54 homers (his tied for third best), 36 doubles, nine triples, lead the league in RBI's with 137, and in runs scored with 158. Oh yes, he hit .376.

We believe that those two records, Ruth's and Gehrig's combined total of RBI's and runs scored, and Ruth's one season total of 119 extra base hits, may indeed be the toughest of all baseball records to beat — tougher than DiMaggio's hitting streak or Maris' 61, or whatever you want to name.

None of baseball's greatest sluggers, not Williams nor DiMaggio, nor Ott nor Mays, nor Foxx nor Greenberg, not Mantle, not Musial, none of them, ever came close to those totals.

LOCAL TAG ENDS: Bill Smith, the Pacifica wrestling coach who quit his job as athletic director of the San Francisco Olympic Club to instruct Canada's Olympic wrestling team, has been back in Pacifica since last December, working with Physial Fitness, Inc. and the Bay Area Wrestling Association, in which he will soon be named executive director.

As we write this the junior basketball team of Pacifica's Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints is engaged in the Mormon League's all-church play-offs in Salt Lake City. They compiled a 16-0 record to receive the invitation. We'll let you know how they came out.

ALL-MPL CAGERS

Aragon Tops Star Squad

Aragon High School's champion Dons dominate the 1969 All-Mid Peninsula League basketball team, released Saturday.

Center Wayne Pearson and forward Mark Murphy were both named to the first team and forward Jim Romey nabbed a second club birth.

Pearson, a 6-5 senior pivot man who matured into the best defensive center in the league, was named the Most Valuable Player.

The team was chosen by the coaches of the seven-school circuit.

Other first team players were: Burlingame's Tim Goll; Mills' John Schilling; and Capuchino's Matt Kriletich. All five first team players are seniors.

Second club members included: Burlingame's Craig Healy; Hillsdale's Mike Stephens; Crestmoor's Tom Dinsmore; and San Mateo's Calvin Swann.

Pearson, Murphy and Romey formed the finest front line in the MPL this year and led the Dons to a 10-2 MPL record and their first title in five seasons. This trio combined for almost 43 points per game in league play.

Pearson is the brother of another former Aragon all-league center, Brice Pearson, who helped the Dons dominate the MPL in the early '60s. Wayne was the top vote-getter in this year's balloting.

Kriletich, Schilling, Goll, Stephens and Dinsmore all fought for the league scoring crown with Dinsmore winning it on the final night of the season. There is still some discrepancy about the margin of his victory due to some possible errors in the home scoring books of certain schools.

Honorable mention honors went out to the following players: George Gladdius and Gary Hernander of Capuchino; Skip Conley of Burlingame; Alonzo Emery of San Mateo; John Cowan of Mills; and Mike Rutherglen and Gary Texley of Hillsdale.

Capuchino's unbeaten frosh-soph team placed three boys on the all-league team in that division.

Named from Cap were: Steve Newberry (the top vote-getter and MVP); Keith Hernandez and Mark Wuerthner. Mills' Charles Hextrum and Hillsdale's Vance Schram and Ed Kertel also were selected on the first team.

Westmoor Nips Hillsdale Baseball Squad, 3 to 2

Westmoor baseball coach Rod Losberger closed his eyes, felt which player had a warm arm, used three non-pitchers yesterday and came up with his first win of the year.

The Rams evened their preseason record at 1-1 with a 3-2 victory over Hillsdale with Steve Gilmore, a shortstop, Dana Marcus, a catcher, and Ken Lively, an outfielder, handling the mound duties. Lively picked up the win.

The winning run scored in the sixth when Mike Brown singled, was sacrificed to second, came to third on a wild pitch and scored on Joel Lesser's single. Lesser had two hits in two tries and drove in two runs.

CHABOT BOWS

Good Inaugural For Bulldogs

College of San Mateo's track team unleashed speed and strength in lethal amount on Friday afternoon to pass its first test in Golden Gate Conference dual meet season.

CSM, scoring heavily in the sprints and weight events, went home with an 89-47 victory over Chabot in its first GGC dual duel of the season.

Bill Hatcher, formerly of Menlo-Atherton High School, ran to a 10-flat victory in the 100, won the 220 in 22.6 and anchored a Bulldog sprint relay team to a new meet record of 43.3, as an omen of the afternoon to come.

Tino Salzano and Lou Nava, a pair of beefy behemoths who were team mates at Serra, respectiely won the shot put and discus. Salzano came through with a good early season mark of 47-1¾ in his specialty while Nava followed suit with a 150-9 discus throw.

CSM's 440 relay combo of Ed Samuels, Larry Furiosi, Mike Miller and Hatcher knocked three-tenths of a second off the old dual meet record. Miller also won the 440 in 50.1 and anchored the mile relay team to a 3:28.8 triumph.

Other CSM firsts were scored by Ron Coleman, who vaulted 14 feet even and Tim Sershen, who took the intermediate hurdles in 59.6 for a new event meet record.

CSM hosts Diablo Valley next Friday afternoon.

Disneyland and Reno New Park Ave. Tours Package

Barbara "Barb" Barber, who sparks Park Avenue Tours, along with her spouse, Jerry, and Charles Palmer, has announced that news schedules to Reno and Disneyland have been added to the already-booming drive-up and fly-up packages. Planning a trip to the Nevada territory? You'll be $$$$ ahead if you stop in one of Park Avenue Tours' offices (San Francisco, Oakland, San Jose, or San Mateo) and check the travel and refund packages available at Hotel Sahara-Tahoe and Barney's Casino. A regular Greyhound Bus on a daily schedule is also available, which departs from San Francisco and stops in Hayward, San Leandro, Oakland, Richmond and Vallejo. This is an ideal package for those on tight schedules. Depart at 6 a.m. and be back home the same evening. Select your own travel package, and let Greyhound do the driving. . . .

Carmen McRae, who has established herself as one of America's premiere popular singers, brought the cast of her Carmen McRae Show to Finocchio's for one of the late performances, and literally stole the spotlight from the female impersonators. When being introduced by Lucian, the "Male Sophie Tucker," Carmen received a standing ovation from fans in the audience . . . The Hyde Street 4, a groovy vocal rock group currently appearing at the Hi-Fi Room South in downtown San Mateo every Tuesday and Sunday evening, will appear on the telly, by way of the Jack Carney Show, Channel 2, tomorrow night at 10:30 p.m. . . . The voice of singer Gail Muribus drifted out of the Purple Onion the other night in North Beach, attracting a large group of Midwestern tourists. They told manager Bud Steinhoff they had never heard such a voice, and were equally dismayed at the remarkable talents of Byron and Howard, the musical satirists who will soon be hitting the Las Vegas circuit.

When Enrico Romano says he makes pizzas without holding back or skimping on any of the ingredients, he isn't kidding. At Romano's Italian restaurant, Rockaway Beach in Pacifica, your pizza (whether small, medium or large) comes heaped with mastacholli, pepperoni, mushrooms, linguica, sausage, olives, anchovies and salami . . . If your fancy is a tender, juicy charcoal broiled steak served Western style, then head for the Flaming Pit, located on the Mall at the new Serramonte Shopping Center. Open for luncheon and dinner seven days a week, the recently-opened restaurant affords several dining areas, a spacious cocktail lounge with intimately-arranged seating (an unusually-designed Juke Box offers a wide choice of mood music), and several large banquet rooms for special parties or business meetings . . . Fred Newman, Assistant Vice President and Manager of the Marina Branch of Crocker-Citizens Bank, kicked off his campaign for District Governor of the Lions Club with a dinner party in the handsome Executive Room at Lew Lehr's Steak House in San Francisco's Marina. . . .

George Cerruti's Group A. Sabella's Capri Room

"Mr. Accordion," George Cerruti, who rose to fame initially as a TV personality, is now in the Capri Room of A. Sabella's restaurant at Fisherman's Wharf, where he offers dance music nightly (except Sunday and Monday) from 9 p.m. . . . When dining at the New Southern restaurant, you'll know why Reno and Julio Donati and Nick Sbarra are famous for serving the "Finest Southern Cooking North of the Mason - Dixon Line" in South San Francisco. Try the baked Virginia ham with candied yams and Dixie sauce. Mmmmmm — it's finger lickin' good! . . . Last call for Harness Racing fans: Bay Meadows Race Track will wind up a successful season tomorrow, even if it was an off track during almost the entire race meet. Post time is 8 p.m. . . . Drop in the Sirloin Steak Pit in Daly City and say "Buenos Tardes" to Senor Hernandez during the lunch hour and order one of his delicious steak sandwiches. There are any number of specialties to choose from on the luncheon menu.

Mrs. Maxwell Krasno (right), president of the San Mateo County General Hospital Auxiliary, shows poster graphically portraying translating program of the hospital to Mrs. Armando Samaniego, auxiliary vice president. The poster was the feature exhibit of County General's display at the California Hospital Auxiliary Associaton convention held in Palm Springs recently.

At S.M. Hospital

Translator Service Praised

Members of the Translators Service area of the San Mateo County General Hospital Auxiliary is hoping for greater participating in the North County.

A series of "service coffees" have been initiated by the unit, it was disclosed this week. "Service Coffees" are being planned sor Auxiliary members ofeach of the 13 service areas of the auxiliary for purposes of re-evaluation, fact findi g, and methods improvement. In addition to Auxiliary members, professional staff personnel of work areas involved participate in the discussion and program.

The Translators Service has gained the approval and commendation of county health officials including the director of the Department of Public Health and Welfare, Dr. H. D. Chope who in lauding the service said:

"I can think of nothing more frustrating than to be ill and unable to communicate with one's physician or to understand his directions. While the Auxiliary provides many services which are of great value to the patients of San Mateo General, I think this new service is one of the most humanistic services that I have known of."

Formation of the translation service evolved from the concerted efforts and close cooperation of Frances Morrow, director of Medical Social Services; Marjorie Bolton, Volunteer Bureau and Susan Samaniego, Auxiliary vice-president. The program answers the needs of Spanish-speaking patients who are unable to either speak or understand English.

Started in April, 1968, the Translators Service is chairmanned by Stella Mateus and is staffed by 12 Auxiliary volunteers who are on duty 5 days a week. Two members are also available for emergency calls.

Service is mostly performed in the Out-patient Clinic where clinic supervisor, Violet Sobers, finds increasing demands for the translators. The medical staff of the hospital also use the translators as needed. Translators assist in filling out forms, directing patients and work directly with doctors and nurses in efforts to communicate with the non-English speaking patients.

The forthcoming remodeling and expansion of County General will provide the Auxiliary further opportunity for both expanded and new services. Since its founding in 1955 under the sponsorship of the Burlingame Newcomers Club, the Auxiliary has grown steadily in its involvement of concerned women in service to others.

New Trucking Law Blocked In Brisbane

A court order enjoining enforcement of Brisbane's new trucking law was obtained yesterday by the Lone Star Cement Company, which operates a hot mix plant and quarry on Crocker property outside the city limits.

Superior Judge Frank W. Rose issued the injunction, which is to be effective upon the posting by Lone Star of a $10,000 bond to protect the city against any possible road damage.

Judge Rose said the injunction will apply only to the Lone Star operation.

The company filed suit after the city council on February 10 approved a resolution restricting trucks weighing more than three tons to Bayshore Boulevard. Lone Star said that, if the restriction were carried out, it would have no way of getting its trucks to Bayshore Boulevard from the quarry and plant site.

The present haul route is on Macco Road from the quarry to the city limits, then on San Francisco and Visitacion avenues and Old County Road to Bayshore Boulevard.

Also included —a supplemental list of little-known Portola Expedition camspites not officially designated.

Copies may be obtained in limited quanities by writing: Mr. Lee Ham, President, Portola Foundation, 1035 E. Hillsdale Boulevard, San Mateo 94401.

Revolution Won a Trophy At Westmoor High School

In the closest race in the history of Westmoor High, the class of '69, with their theme of "Revolution," took the Spirit Trophy for the second straight year to climax Westmoor's "Spirit Week."

Spirit Week, an annual "happening" at Westmoor, began Monday, February 24, with "Grub Day." Each class dressed according to its class theme.

Frosh, using their initials to symbolize their overall theme, Freshman Raise Our Society's Hopes, came bedecked in pajamas to highlight their motto, "Wake up to the world."

Complete with jugs of "soph spirit moonshine" the class of '71 came dressed as hillbillies to carry out their theme of "71 Moonshiners."

With pin stripe suits and toy machine guns, juniors, portraying gangsters of the "Roaring 20's," played up their theme of "steal the Spirit."

"Revolution 69" was the theme of seniors, who emerged on the scene with protest signs, ranging from the war in Vietnam to skateboards.

At lunch the classes had a tug-o-war and after school on the frosh-soph football field, many participated in a water bolloon flight.

Tuesday found the halls of Westmoor jam-packed with posters depicting class themes rising to its zenith.

Juniors came as convicts, showing that they were foiled in their attempt to "steal spirit" while seniors came in suits and dresses to perpetuate the "dress up" tradition started a few years ago.

At lunch the four classes participated in a volleyball tournament, with the seniors emerging victorious.

Near the end of the day a surprise drive was announced with shoes the object to be collected and contributed to Goodwill Industries, the beneficiaries of the annual Christmas clothing drive.

Wednesday, the last day of Spirit Week, Color Day, found each class member resplendent in his class color—freshmen, red; sophomores, yellow; juniors, green, and seniors, white.

With the main objectives stirring up spirit for the varsity basketball game against South City (which was lost after a tough fight) and of bringing Spirit Week to a close with the presentation of the plaque, the Spirit Week rally found the gym packed with anxious students chanting "Beat South City."

Student body president, Charlie Freiberg, announced at the rally's beginning that the sophomores had won the surprise shoe drive.

Next came the long-awaited class skits. The sophomore skit concerned a fued between the Class of '71 "hillbillies" and the South City Warrior clan, in which the Warriors found themselves thrown into the "Westmoor Rapids." The junior class skit followed with the class of '70 reformed gangsters, using united school spirit to overcome the South City cagers.

Freshmen class then led a sing-along to "We've Got the South City Warriors in Our Hands." This was followed with the frosh class president reading an original poem by a fellow classmate. The poem typified the class interpretation of why harmony, tranquility, and peace is diminishing from the world.

The last skit was performed by the senior class, featuring a news report about the current happenings in the world today and their relationship to the graduating class of '69.

Teener Held In Beauty Shop Break-in

A 16-year-old Daly City youth was arrested by police as he attempted to flee the scene of a beauty shop break-in Sunday night.

Police said two witnesses watched while the youth climbed through a window of the Casa de Rio shop at 171 Southgate Avenue about 9:30 p.m.

A unit of police apprehended the boy as he tried to escape through the same window.
